Nation Goes Dry at Midnight When War-Time Prohibition Becomes Effective

READY TO DEAL WITH VIOLATIONS

Department of Justice Will Strictly Enforce War Time
Prohibition

Persons Who Undertake Sale
of 2 3-4 Per Cent Beer Will
Be Arrested

WASHINGTON, June 30.—War-time
prohibition effective at midnight will
be strictly enforced by the department
of justice, insofar as existing machinery
can function to that end.

It was said at the department today
that open violation of the law, threatened
in New York and other cities, would be promptly dealt with by federal agents. Whether the department's present force will be able to break up secret traffic remains to be seen,
but the connection it is pointed out that the increased appropriation asked of congress for general law enforcement would permit a considerable enlargement of the department's force.

Beer containing 2 3/4 per cent of alcohol
is regarded by justices of this city
as intoxicating, and persons who undertake its sale will be arrested. Suit brought in Baltimore to have the courts determine whether such beer is intoxicating within the meaning of law is to come to trial, but it is expected that before that judgment is entered, congress will have specifically fixed in the enforcement law the amount of alcohol which beverages
may contain.

In the opinion of department of justice
officials and many members of congress war-time prohibition will have no effect on the Reed amendment prohibiting the transportation of intoxicants into territory where the manufacture and sale are forbidden by local law. Information has reached the department that many persons living in dry territory have stored quantities of liquor in wet cities with a view to transporting it after today, but enforcement of the Reed amendment will in no wise be retarded.

Wilson Not to Lift Ban

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—
President Wilson announced last night
he would not suspend operation of war
time prohibition law. In cablegram to the White House, he said "when demobilization is terminated, my power
to act without congressional action
will be exercised."

ARBITRATE HAVERHILL CONTROVERSY

HAVERHILL, Mass., June 30.—The controversy between the Shoe Workers'
Protective union and the Haverhill Shoe Manufacturers association in regard to the adoption of the 41 and 45 hour week will be settled by arbitration. This method has been mutually agreed upon by each faction and committees representing each will get together tonight. The proposition of the Manufacturers association for the 45 hour week during the summer months will be considered.

Before the shoe cutters will return to work a mass meeting will be held to decide whether or not to respect the shoe council's orders. Joseph C. Goette, general agent of the union, declares that the cutters will probably return
during the day.

TRANSPORT FINLAND IN WITH 3545 TROOPS

BOSTON, June 30.—The transport Finland, with 3545 troops and 26 civilian employees of the war department, arrived today from Brest. Lieut. Col.
William O. Reed of the third cavalry commanded the troops which were composed largely of cavalry and field artillery units.

HAZZARD ARRESTED

Man Who Would Marry Miss
Mabel E. Puffer Charged
With Larceny of $6000

Arthur G. Hazzard, more familiarly known as "Honey" Hazzard was arrested Sunday morning in this city at the home of his brother, William Hazzard in Chapel street, charged with the larceny of $6000 from Mabel E. Puffer recently went from Ayer to Concord, N. H., where, it is said, they intended to be married. The warrant, calling for Hazzard's arrest was issued in Ayer on the request of George L. Wilson, recently appointed temporary guardian of Miss Puffer's estate.

Hazzard was arraigned in the Ayer court today, and after pleading not guilty the case was continued to one week from next Saturday, July 12.

When it became known that Hazzard was in Lowell the warrant was turned over to the local police and Sergt.
McMahon and Patrolman Burke served
it shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday forenoon. He was taken to police headquarters and was afterwards
joined by his brother, William Hazzard and his attorney, Cornelius J. O'Neil.
Clerk Trull of the police court fixed bail at $10,000 for Hazzard's appearance in the Ayer court this morning and late in the afternoon John H. Barrett of 55
Fifth street, provided the necessary security.

It is said that on receiving word
of Hazzard's arrest yesterday, Chief Realty of the Ayer police went to Hazzard's home in Ayer with a search warrant and there found scores of articles which Miss Puffer identified as her property and stated that they had passed from her hands to the Hazzard household. The property included trunks, a phonograph, old and valuable furniture, a solid silver service set, other silverware, rugs and lamps. It is said that the property was taken to the Ayer police station.

INCREASE POLICE VICE AND LIQUOR SQUADS

In connection with the suspension of
the liquor business, some increase in
the size of the police vice and liquor
squad will be made by Mayor Thompson
as the head of the public safety department. At present the vice squad numbers six men and the liquor squad,
two.

The licensed liquor dealers will obey
the mandates of the law to the letter,
but some provisions will necessarily
have to be made to offset the "speakeasy"
and kitchen barroom business,
which undoubtedly will attempt to get
a footing in the city. To what extent
the police forces will be augmented
Mayor Thompson is not ready to say.

WETTEST NIGHT IN HISTORY

Hotel, Restaurant and Saloon-
keepers Plan Big Celebrations for Tonight

Special Obsequies Over
Passing of "King Barley-
corn"—5825 to Lose Jobs

BOSTON, June 30.—Hotel, restaurant and saloonkeepers made preparations
today for the wettest night in their history, announcing "New Year's eve" celebrations and special obsequies
over the passing of "King Barley Corn," while liquor store clerks were kept busy filling from their already depleted stocks the last orders from the thirsty ones who were making thoughtful provision for the morrow.

Statistics said that 2255 breweries, hotels, saloons, bottled goods
shops and clubs in the state would be affected by the operation of the war
prohibition order, and that 3325 vendors, porters, bottlers, brewery
workers and wine clerks would lose
their jobs. Liquor license fees in the state amounted to more than $3,000,000
in 1918.

Apply For Injunction

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 30.—The
"war-time" ban which will go into effect tonight will close 500 saloons and derive 500 drug stores and 200
clubs of the right to sell liquor. In a last minute effort to stop the application of the prohibition order, the Retail Liquor Dealers' association of the state announced that a motion would
be made in the federal court at New Haven today for an injunction forbidding the enforcement of the measure
by the revenue collector.

To Take a Chance

NEW YORK, June 30.—Six thousand saloonkeepers, members of the United Liquor Dealers' association,
will meet today to determine their final course in meeting war time prohibition.
Meanwhile they plan to take a chance and keep open after midnight
for the sale of all kinds of drinks, including whiskey.

Efforts will be made to induce the attorney general of New York to seek
an injunction restraining the federal government from enforcing the law.
Hotels and restaurants, with few exceptions,
are prepared for a big wet celebration tonight, but many of them
will limit their sales to beer and light
wines after 12 o'clock.

PREPARING WATER BILLS

The water bills for the July quarter
as well as the annual bills of the water department will not be sent out tomorrow, July 1, as scheduled, but will be mailed in the course of a few days, the water department office announced today. Owing to the large number of bills to be prepared—something more than 12,000—it was inevitable that there should be a slight delay in sending them out.

Unbounded Enthusiasm
Swept Vast Assemblage at Fenway Park

Fully 60,000 people crowded the Fen-
way ball park in Boston yesterday afternoon to welcome President De Valera of the Irish republic and to show sympathy with the cause he represents
as well as to see and to hear the
man who now stands foremost as the representative of the Irish people and of the Irish spirit of freedom and nationality.

The enthusiasm that swept over the
vast audience was actually unbounded.
At 2 o'clock practically all of the bleachers as well as the grandstand
were filled with people, and yet the
crowds continued to surge into the center of the field until standing room
was at a premium.

The speaker's stand was erected near
the grandstand and so many people
crowded upon it who had no right to be there that police officers had to be employed to clear the area.

HAVERHILL COMES TO LOWELL TODAY

An old favorite, Jessica Burkett, former high mogul at Worcester, with the old N. E. League and Eastern league teams and now guiding the destinies of the Haverhill club, today
made his first visit to Lowell this year as manager of the Shoe City team. A good sized Monday crowd was present
at Spaulding park to welcome him.

Both Lowell and Haverhill received double setbacks Saturday, and Haydn
and Burkett were out for retribution.

eldest son of Prince Louis of Bavaria, has entered a Jesuit monastery at Innsbruck, according to newspapers

declared void by the supreme court of Bavaria on January 17, 1913.

BOY ATTACKED BY DRUNKEN MAN IS SENT TO HOSPITAL— SAILANT AT LARGE

As a result of being attacked by a drunken man armed with a tin can,
Edward Corser, 10 years old, of 62 Chestnut street, was taken to St. John's hospital early last evening with a deep gash in his forehead which took four stitches to close. The affair took place in Condon's court, off Fayette street, and yet the police have been unable to find the little fellow's assailant.

Montenegro Enters Protest

PARIS, June 30.—The Montenegrin government has sent a note to the allied powers protesting against the peace conference's refusal to allow Montenegro representation in the peace negotiations with Germany. It makes the point that it was among the first to declare war on Germany.

The protest comes from the government of King Nicholas, the headquarters of which are in a suburb of Paris. Last December the national assembly of Montenegro voted to unite with the Serbo-Croat Slovene state and deposed King Nicholas.

BIG RIOTS AT BREST, FRANCE

Exchange of Shots Between American Service Men and French Sailors

Two French Civilians Killed,
Five U. S. Soldiers and Sailors Severely Hurt

BREST, June 29.—Two French
civilians were killed and five American soldiers and sailors were injured
severely and more than 100 wounded
in riots here last night.
Two of the American soldiers are expected to die.

The casualties occurred as a result
of the exchange of shots between American military and naval police
and French sailors.

The trouble began, according to available accounts, when an American
naval officer, who is said to have been drinking heavily, tore down a French
flag and trampled on it. A crowd of Frenchmen attacked the officer and it is said, kicked and beat him until he
was unconscious.

Americans who were not aware of the cause of the fight went to the aid of the naval officer and the fight became more general.

A mob of French civilians and soldiers and sailors attempted to rush
the Hotel Moderne, where American
officers were quartered. They burned
a sentry box and threw stones at Americans in uniform wherever they found them. The Americans it is said
retaliated.

A company of marines with fixed
bayonets was hurried to the scene
and soon restored order. Admiral Henri Salaun, the French naval commander at Brest, ordered the marines
to return to their barracks. As the marines marched back to their quarters, it is declared, they were pursued by a mob throwing stones and bricks.

The city was quiet today.

NO MUNICIPAL EMBLEM FOR SERVICE MEN

The bronze medals which were to
have been distributed to the veterans
of the world war whose homes are in Lowell as a mark of appreciation on
the part of the city, will not be given
out in connection with the Fourth of July welcome home celebration here
next Friday, according to Mayor Perry
D. Thompson.

The reason is that the state and
national governments are awarding
medals and buttons to the soldiers and sailors and it is felt that a municipal emblem at the present time would be superfluous. In many communities the medals have been changed to watch
fobs, but the matter will be held in
abeyance locally, for the present at least, according to the mayor.

RELIEVING THE HOUSING SITUATION

The efforts of the board of trade in
this city to form a corporation to establish homes in this city and thus
relieve the housing situation find reflection in the efforts of the Worcester
chamber of commerce along the same
line, although the Worcester project
has found its fruition much more quickly than that in this city.

Secretary John J. O'Rourke of the Lowell board has received word that
the business men of Worcester have formed a housing corporation with a capitalization of $200,000. It is planned to have 50 houses ready for occupancy
in the fall. They will be of the three-apartment type, each apartment having
five or six rooms.

In Lowell a committee has worked
long and faithfully to put a similar
project through but to date, very little
of the capitalization has been received.
The Worcester project is cited as an example of what can be done in

O. M. I. Cadets Pay Tribute to Departed Comrades at Impressive Service

Rarely has the annual military mass of the O.M.I. Cadets presented such a striking and impressive spectacle as did that of yesterday when 300 members of the organization and former members who had seen service in the world war united to pay solemn tribute to the 20 members who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war.

The ceremony was held at the Immaculate Conception church before a congregation that filled the edifice to capacity. Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., spiritual director of the O.M.I. Cadets, had general supervision, and the splendid success of the affair once more reflected his ability in O.M.I. Cadet affairs.

The church was draped with bunting of the national colors, intermingled with many American flags. Floral effects of red, white and blue on the white altars, set off by numerous incense burners, made the scene a most brilliant one.

Promptly at 9 o'clock the Cadets, headed by their own life and drum corps, marched to the church from their army in High street with Col. Francis Halls and Maj. William F. Conroy in the lead. The natty uniforms of blue and white contrasted with the more sombre uniforms of the war veterans in their service garb.

As the procession made its way down the centre aisle, the church choir sang and three trumpeters played "Onward, Christian Soldiers," and when the sol- diers had taken their positions, all sang one stanza of the hymn. Lead- ing the service men were Capt. W. C. MacBrayne, Lieut. Joseph M. Reilly, Lieut. John Tully, Lieut. John Boland, Ensign Harold O'Brien and Ensign Edward Cummings.

Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O.M.I., pas- tor of the church, celebrated the mass and preached the sermon. He empha- sized the fact that true success can come to either military or spiritual warriors only through obedience to commands. He urged that the Cadets live up to the teachings of the church, guard of honor on the altar, and an- like true soldiers and also asked that they remember their departed com- rades in their prayers.

All the members of the organization received communion and Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I., was assisted by Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I., and Rev. J. B. McCartin, O.M.I. The pastor was assisted in the arrangements by former Majors Haggerty, Conroy and Boyd.

The musical program included a trio, "Our Lady of Good Counsel," sung by Charles McGauvran, John Craven and John Cotter, and a trio, "Lead, Kindly Light," by Capt. Frank O'Brien, Capt. John O'Brien and Charles McGauvran. The recessional sung at the close of the mass was "America United," a com- position by Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I. Dur- ing the mass 41 cadets served as a guard of honor on the altar, and an- like true soldiers and also asked that

Celebrate Passing of John Barleycorn

CHICAGO, June 30.—Many saloons and restaurants planned to keep open long after midnight, when war time prohibition goes into effect. They expect to sell large quantities of liquor to patrons up to midnight and allow them to remain as long as they desire to consume it. Thousands of reservations have been made in hotels and restaurants for the celebration of the passing of liquor, and proprietors predicted a revel surpassing those of New Year's eve.

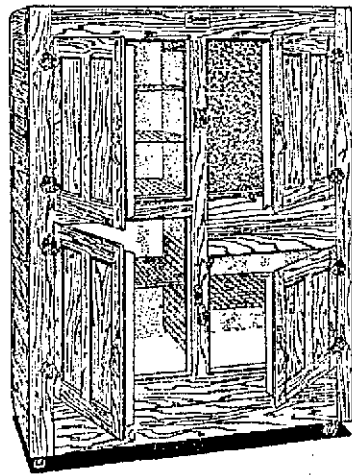

All available waiters and bartenders were put to work early in the day in anticipation of the biggest day the liquor trade has ever experi- enced.

DOCTOR FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER ENDS LIFE

MINEOLA, N. Y., June 30.—The man in which Dr. Walter Keene Wilkins got the new rope with which he hanged himself in the bathroom of the Nassau County jail here last night was the subject of an investigation today.

Dr. Wilkins, convicted last Friday as the slayer of his wife Julia, was to have been sentenced tomorrow morning to death in the electric chair.

It was impossible for anyone from the inside to throw the rope to the prisoner, for his cell contained no windows. The bathroom where he ended his life, also was without windows.

One of three letters written by Dr. Wilkins just before he ended his life declared that he was innocent. Another addressed to Sheriff Seaman requested that $80 in his clothes be used to have his body cremated.

Cause of Erin Acclaimed

directed to remove those who climbed over or clung to the railing in order to get an opportunity to see and hear the speakers. Only those in the grandstand or close to the platform were able to hear anything of what was said and fully three-fourths of the vast assembly simply watched the proceedings at a distance.

Many organizations marched into the field with bands, led by men bearing the flag of the United States and that of the Irish Republic. Until the exercises commenced as many as half a dozen bands were heard in turn in different parts of the great assembly.

The arrival of President De Valera and his party was a signal for a cheer that swept over the entire field, the people waving their hats and cheering lustily.

The speaking continued from 3.15 till 6 o'clock and it was after 5 o'clock when President De Valera was introduced. He was mounted upon a table so that he could be seen by the people too far away to hear him.

Senator Walsh, Mayor Peters, Mayor Quinn of Cambridge, Harry J. Doland, secretary of the Sinn Féin movement in Ireland; former Congressman Joseph P. O'Connell, the Rev. Philip J. O'Donnell, Major Eugene F. Kincaide of Jersey City, N. J.; John H. McNamee and Thomas H. Mahoney, completed the list of speakers, every one, without exception, approving of the efforts of De Valera and pledging their help to the cause he represents.

Grouped on all sides of the honored visitor were uniformed delegations of Irish clubs and societies of Greater Boston before the meeting began. In the stands in prominent positions were representatives of the states of New England and officials of many cities and towns of Massachusetts.

Meeting Opens

The meeting was opened by Rev. Philip J. O'Donnell of St. James' Catholic church, Harrison avenue, who offered prayer, first conveying the blessing of Cardinal O'Connell on De Valera and his work. Cardinal O'Connell, on a visit to Chicago, was represented by Fr. O'Donnell.

"Thanks to God for the day, so near to the day of justice for Ireland," was voiced by Fr. O'Donnell. He prayed that the Irish people whom St. Patrick evangelized, the race that has suffered so much during the past 800 years, be crowned with victory in this hour of their highest hope.

Daniel H. Coakley, representing the bench and bar committee of the Irish victory fund, introduced then Thomas H. Mahoney as permanent chairman of the meeting. The chairman voiced the sentiment of the assembly, received the approval in cheers, when he extended the Gaelic "One hundred thousand welcomes" to De Valera.

Mayor Peters of Boston

Mayor Peters of Boston got a rousing reception on being presented by Chairman Mahoney. He assured Pres. De Valera that he had come to the right spot in America to start his campaign. "Our city and people have ever been responsive to the cause of freedom. To the hearts of the city of Boston and of Massachusetts the appeal of a nation for freedom and self-determination has ever met a generous response. While all the rest of the world has been advancing towards freedom in the past 60 years, the may-pole of Ireland has lagged in the procession through no fault of her own. He made a fervent appeal for justice and independence for Erin in order that she may be allowed to take her rightful place among the nations of the earth.

The mayor's speech was interrupted by the breaking down of some fixtures and tables near the grandstand upon which a crowd had been standing, but order was restored after a few minutes and it appears that nobody was injured, although several women in the crowd fainted in the crush and excitement and were carried to the speaker's stand.

Pres. De Valera's Speech

Following is the text of President De Valera's address:

"Gaelis, and friends of the Gaelis, I speak to you in the tongue of the Gaelis, to tell you that I bring from the White Hills—as they were in the song, the White Hills of Ireland—a greeting to you. I regret that my voice will not carry to the limits of this meeting. I would like that everyone here would hear that greeting. I know it finds a responsive chord in your hearts.

"They told us during the war that we had lost the sympathy of our own blood in America. I did not mind words, but told them they lied.

"I knew that the people of the land that showed the world the way to true liberty, the land in which I had the honor to be born, was not going to misunderstand the struggles of a people fighting against a tyrant far greater than Germany; and the moment that an opportunity presented itself to come to you, I came, as I came to the people of Clara, when, after my liberation from prison, my first words to them were: 'In England they have branded us as criminals; in England they told us our own people despised us as traitors, and I told them I was willing to be judged by the Irish people and if they call me a traitor I shall hang my head in shame.'

"You know the verdict of Clara, and I believe I shall carry back to Ireland the same verdict from America. No, I do not fear for a moment that the people of America will make a shuttlecock of our cause, to pass it from party to party. I know they will not do this. I believe that Americans can differ as to policies about America, but they are united in the cause of liberty.

"And I come here to this grand free land knowing that if the Irish question were by any means to be made a question of parties, it would be only in this sense, that the parties would vie with each other as to who could help Ireland best.

"Now, I shall not attempt to plead Ireland's cause with you. It was sweet to my ears, sweeter than I could tell you, to listen to Ireland's cause being pleaded by Americans, and I hope that on all of the platforms on which I shall stand it will be the people of America pleading Ireland's cause, and I shall be there only to represent Ireland.

America the Hope of the World

"While advocating the cause that I do advocate here in Boston, in the very cradle of liberty, it is somewhat of an effort on my part to restrain myself from entering on a parallel and going back with you over the associations that I have recalled. But there is an interest—and my right to speak on it is that I am a man—an interest which concerns not merely Ireland, but concerns mankind.

"Now, it was a rather curious coincidence that on the very night on which your president was speaking here in your hall in Boston, and used the words, 'America is the hope of the world,' I at that very moment was using those very same words to an American reporter who was interviewing me, while the English detectives were unable to find me. I used these words, and I meant what I said and I gave my reasons for it.

"I pointed out that of all the powerful nations, America alone was in the position which would enable her to secure for humanity that which humanity most needs, which is a settled and lasting peace.

"I knew that on America it would depend—America that entered the war with unselfish motives; America that was free from the entangled alliances of the world war. On America it would depend, whether the world would be thrown back again, into the old system of secret diplomacies and intrigues, which have never ceased to breed war.

"My friends, I am reading this portion of this speech because it would be very easy to misunderstand me, and the danger of the press was brought home to me by one of the speakers here vividly, when he said that after the surrender Easter week I said, 'You may shoot me, but spare my men.' I would never have insulted the men who fought with me. I did say, 'Arrange for my men,' because I was arranging the surrender. That shows how careful you have to be in every public utterance.

"Now the thought that I expressed on this occasion when I was talking to the reporter was practically the thought of every man and woman in Ireland, and not merely for the selfish reason that America was the hope of Ireland, because the Irish people are a spiritual people, with interest second to none in humanity's future.

Supreme Issues Involved

"I believe that there is no nation

in the world more keenly alive to the supreme issues of mankind involved in the Paris negotiations. We in Ireland clearly recognize that if the wrong turning be now taken, if violence be re-established in its former supremacy, humanity is faced with a period of misery for which history has no parallel. Due to the debt incurred in the war, the cost of competitive armament, the old diplomatic intrigues will lead inevitably to the ferociousness of world-wide ruin and civil war, a whole series of wars vastly more terrible than the huge affair now ended.

Peace was nominally signed between the two great countries yesterday—I think this was what I heard shouted out in New York by a newsboy before I left—peace that will cost us 20 wars instead of the one that it nominally ended. The British minister said a few days ago that there were 23 wars going on at the present time, and this is the peace treaty that the world has been asked to look forward to as the treaty that would establish everlasting peace. It is a mere mockery, and it will remain this unless America takes up the responsibility for the world to which her traditions entitle her, that at this moment is freely offered to her by the common consent of mankind.

Equality of Right Demanded

"The present opportunity is never likely to occur again. The idea of a unity of nations recognizing a common law and a common right ending wars among nations is today a possibility if America will do what the people of the world look forward to, and expect her to do.

"Failing, this moment would be a disaster impossible to repair. The moral propaganda carried on in this war, the doctrines of right that were enunciated, though the motives of some of the spokesmen may have been hypocritical, have still done their work. The world is ready and prepared; the minds and hearts of men made peculiarly receptive by sadness and misery and deeply impressed by the lessons they have been taught.

"If seeds fall on a loose and fertile soil, will America allow the fruit of such propitious soil to be lost by a neglectful harvest?

"America can save this. If she fails the world will be thrown back into a sullen, despairing condition. America can save democracy. The nations must be founded on the one basis—the equality of all, the small no less than the great. We want a just League of Nations, founded on the only basis on which it can be just—the equality of right among nations.

Watch Issue With Keen Interest

"She is strong enough to do so, and it is her right consequent to the explicit terms on which she entered the war. She will be backed by all the right-minded of the entire world; by all but perhaps some scheming diplomats with financial interests behind them.

"Let her lead to democracy. Let her lead, and a true democracy will organize itself the world over, forever to press unto salvation and happiness. "We in Ireland watch with keen interest these issues, and, as I might call it, our strategic object, politically, since we came out of prison, was to put Ireland in the position in which she now is that she might claim that just right. I am speaking now not for myself, but for the whole Irish nation.

"I will read for you an extract from the proceedings of our parliamentary meeting on the League of Nations.

"The following motion, which was carried unanimously, was ordered to be sent to your president. It was this:

Quotes President Wilson

"That the elected parliament and government of the Irish republic pledges the entire support of the Irish nation in translating into deeds the principles enunciated by the president of the United States at Washington's tomb on July 4, 1918, and wholeheartedly accepted by the people of America, during the war.

The second paragraph was:

"We are eager and ready to institute a world League of Nations based on an equality of rights in which the guarantees exchanges neither recognize nor imply a difference between the big ones and the weak."

"We are willing to accept all the duties, responsibilities and burdens which become a part of such an alliance. Ireland offers herself in that cause. Let America and Americans take this step that they may emancipate and save the world. A League of Nations and covenant for a League of Nations can be framed in Washington as well as in Paris.

"Now is the time to frame it. It is not enough for you to destroy, you must build. The material and the artificers are in abundance."

United States Senator Walsh

Ex-Governor David I. Walsh, now United States senator, spoke in part as follows:

Mr. Chairman, President De Valera, Your Honor, Ladies and Gentlemen—This magnificent demonstration indicates more splendidly than speech or word that America, first and last, is with the cause of the Irish people. To be sure, Mr. President, you are welcomed here by those of your own blood. But as an American citizen I believe I can say to you, if it were not for the fact that the great American people believe those of your own blood have a right to be first, this park would be filled with liberty loving Americans not of Irish blood.

"You are greeted not alone by those born in the old land, but you are greeted as well by those who have never seen the land of their ancestors. How beautiful the poet has expressed our thought today: 'Yet even those who never have seen the sun and shadow on their fathers' land, today a tender feeling fills, today a voice is calling, a voice that thrills, a voice that touches, Erin calling to her children.'

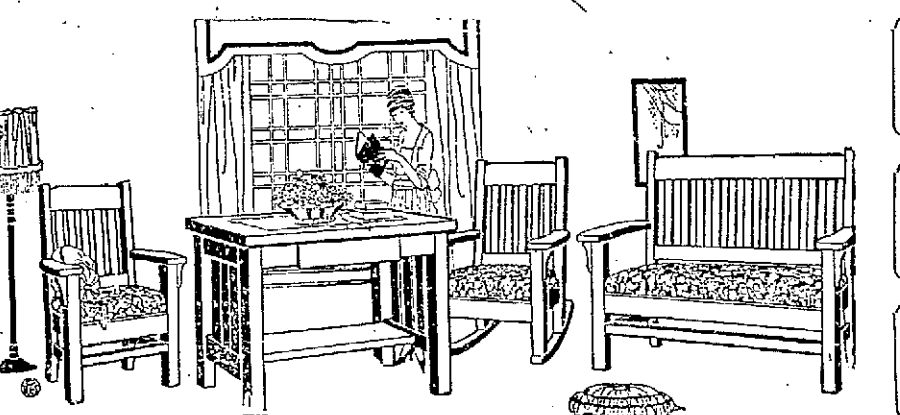

"As we look into your face we think of fathers and mothers, we think of their sacrifices, we think of their poverty, we think of their exile and we think of the wrongs of centuries, because you bring back to us all that is best and in you we see the promise of a new day, of a new hope, when the flag of our ancestors will wave in triumph and in freedom.

"Oh, if it were for no other reason than the memory of those who die in

SEBORRHEA A HAIR SCOURGE

Seborrhea is the scourge that kills the hair. It propagates the dandruff bacilli and eventually causes baldness.

If your hair is falling out, it is fighting for its life.

Nature fights to supply new hair, but with seborrhea in the sebaceous glands each succeeding hair is weaker. Baldness keeps coming closer and closer—unless FAMO is used.

FAMO destroys the dandruff bacilli. It ends all itching.

FAMO causes the growth of new healthy hair.

It retards grayness—it contains no alcohol.

FAMO intensifies the natural color of the hair and adds a new luster and sheen.

Every member of the family should use FAMO regularly.

Even where the scalp is healthy, FAMO should be used as it will keep seborrhea away.

Also, it will make the hair soft and fluffy. Its use is a daily habit you will enjoy.

FAMO comes in two sizes—a small size at 25 cents and a big bottle at $1.00. Your money will be returned if you are not satisfied.

Seborrhea is the medical name for a morbidly increased flow from the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The seborrheic excretion forms in scales or flakes and is commonly known as dandruff.

Opens at Nine O'Clock

TOMORROW MORNING

122 Central Street

STRAND THEATRE BUILDING.

Tel. 805

Everybody is invited to the house-warming. We shall be open from 9 in the morning until 6 at night.

We shall be open for business as well as for inspection. If you come expecting to find an orchestra or some useless souvenir, you'll be disappointed. But if you come expecting to see the most beautiful women's wear shop, the most attractive outer apparel, the most moderate prices and the most courteous sales force, you'll find your expectations fully met—and possibly exceeded.

While it looks at this writing as if everything would be in complete readiness tomorrow morning, one seldom opens a new store but what they find that some of the hundred and one little details had been overlooked. We presume it will be the same here—especially since we have not only been hard pressed for time in trying to open on such short notice, but have met with many unforeseen difficulties in altering and equipping these quarters.

Therefore it ought should be found lacking here tomorrow, in merchandise, in equipment, or in service, we beg your kind indulgence until such time as we shall have "found ourselves" so to speak, for we aim to make the new Gilday Gown Shop a shop of "completeness" in every respect, especially with exclusiveness of stock and in service to our customers, with special emphasis on the courteous attention to which every person who visits this gown shop is entitled whether they come as looker or buyer.

Utility and efficiency without extravagance have been the watchwords in equipping the new Gilday Gown Shop. Yet you'll find the decorations are tasteful and pleasing; the fixtures and display facilities are new and designed for a perfect display of women's outer apparel—easy to see and get at, yet fully protected from dust, dirt and finger marks.

The lights, the color scheme, every appointed detail; all are in alluring harmony. More selling space has been added. A new and much larger stock of New Mid-Summer Fashions of the Gilday standard is now on exhibition. Every facility for quick, efficient service has been installed which will minister in every way to the comfort and convenience of our patrons.

But equipment and pleasing appearance are only side issues compared with the wonderfully wide variety of exclusive Gilday clothes you'll find displayed here. And because we keep our expenses at lowest ebb, you'll find that—on equal qualities—we quote lower prices than anyone else—anywhere—always.

So when you come to take your first look at this New Gilday Gown Shop, the most pleasing of all Lowell stores, don't let its striking appearance blind your eyes to the even more wonderful sight presented by my personally selected stocks offering wider varieties and greater values. The whole we are sure will afford a good clothes treat such as Lowell has never before been privileged to witness. It is our pride that we now possess a women's clothes shop without a superior. The old Gilday quality traditions will be faithfully maintained, and fair prices will always prevail.

Come see us tomorrow, or any other day that best suits your convenience. You'll be welcome—any time.

Yours for personal service,

18 U. S. Soldiers Killed in Siberia

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Eighteen American soldiers were killed, one officer and eight men severely wounded and 10 slightly wounded in an engagement with anti-Kolchak forces near Romanovka on June 25. Major General Graves, commanding the American expedition in Siberia, informed the war department today that the engagement followed an attack by the Bolsheviks on railroad guards.

U. S. Troops From Russia Arrive

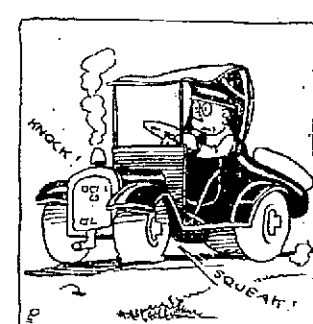

NEW YORK, June 30.—The transport Von Stenben arrived today from Brest with 2820 troops, including a large detachment of the 339th Infantry, 85th Division, which was recently withdrawn from Archangel. The Infanta Isabella brought 1730 troops from Bordeaux and La Torrairie from Havre and the yacht Aphrodite brought casualties.

THE WEEKLY OVERHAUL

The weekly overhauling of the car seems like a tedious and useless task. But it means freedom from trouble in days to come when trouble will follow you "constantly," as Bert Williams used to say, if you neglect the little things now.

See that the grease cups are filled and turned down. Each has its little part in making the car last longer. A worn spring bolt, for lack of grease, may mean a broken spring some day. One point neglected on the steering assembly may mean a worn part and a wreck by the roadside as a result.

Examine the tires for cuts and have the little cuts vulcanized before

A little attention now and then would save a lot of knocks.

They grow into big ones filled with dirt and loosen rubber from fabric. See that there is oil in the engine and water in the radiator. Of course this is more than a weekly rite. It is

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND
"The Lion's Den," adapted from the Saturday Evening Post story by Frederick Orin Bartlett, author of Bert Lyell's greatest success, "The Spend-or" presents an idea of powerful appeal taken from the efforts of a young clerkman to save the boys of his congregation from the evils of the street and pool rooms. It will be shown at The Strand for the first three days of the present week and is said to be one of the most entertaining film features of the season. See it.

He was a minister of the gospel, working in the slums. She was a young society butterfly, frivolous and vain, never thinking of the serious side of life and ignoring the love her husband gave her. "Pinkythings of Passion," the newest Kitty Gordon feature, describes the startling story with the above theme as a basis. It deals with temptation which came to the young cleric and the momentous results arising from the way he met it. Miss Harriet Moran, the week's soloist, a good Bill Paxon's comedy and the latest Universal Weekly, will add to the worth of the bill. The pony contest is still on and getting more popular daily. Get the children interested for the prize is worth the try. Think of it, a handsome live Shetland pony and cowboy outfit free to the most popular child. Coupons distributed with every purchase of an admission ticket.

WORK PROGRESSING ON HOSPITAL ADDITION

Work on the erection of the addition to St. John's hospital is progressing rapidly and it is expected that the new building will be ready for occupancy sometime in September. All the brick work as well as the plastering has been completed and the men are now busy putting in the terrazzo floors. The marble settings have been installed and it is expected that the carpenters will be ready for the finishing touch within a short time.

The new building is four stories high, was built of steel and brick and connects with the old building. It will be heated from the boiler plant in the laundry, where two large six-foot boilers were recently installed. The building is so constructed that the elevator in the old building will serve for both structures. The partitions of the new all-oro of Egyptian blocks, while the walls in the corridors are of terra cotta. The stairways are also of terra cotta.

A tunnel has been laid out from the laundry building, connecting with the new building as well as the old structure, while it has also been extended in the rear across Stackpole street to the site, where probably next year will be erected a nurses' home. The building, when complete, will be one of the finest of its kind in this part of the country.

A new era of shipping is promised in the launching at Oakland, Cal. of the 4500-ton tanker Palo Alto, largest reinforced concrete vessel yet built. (Above), Mrs. R. J. Wig, wife of the shipping board engineer, who sponsored the 455-foot "floating rock."

BOOZE HOLIDAY STARTS TONIGHT

Lowell's Bone Dry Era Begins at 11 p. m.—Feverish Buying Marks Final Day

Locations to be Retained for Present, Waiting Lifting of Ban, Local Dealers Say

Starting tonight at 11, John Barleycorn and his right bower, Robin Hop, as they function in Lowell, are to start on a prolonged vacation the length of which can be conjectured at only by the ability of the guesster to surmise when America's war time army will have been completely demobilized.

One of the most surprising things in connection with the temporary absence of King Booze from Lowell is this. Many people expect that tomorrow morning carpenters, workmen and movers will be seen starting in to remove all the fixtures and appointments of the mahogany palaces in Lowell where one could seek counsel of the leafy "Halg and Halg," learn geography by communing with one of Kentucky's greatest products and experimenting to find out if Blue River whiskey really is a "morning mornin'" into which a headache does not enter.

This is on the supposition that liquor dealers, holding different kinds of licenses, with J. Barleycorn off fishing, would promptly surrender leases, remove saloon fixtures and set the stage for the "To Let" sign to be displayed in the shop window. This, however, seems not destined to be the case. After today we shall find that perhaps neat screens in the windows of the saloons cut off the gaze of the passerby from looking in towards where so much philosophy, wit, information and high priced booze, used to be dispensed, but this will be evidence the selling of joy juice has been suspended but not that the owner of the place has moved his equipment out and permanently quit the business.

Many Lowell saloon men believe the business of selling liquor may legally be resumed again before October 1, and they are willing to hold on to their locations, pay the rent and wait for the future action of congress. In the case of the rum selling places delicately and fastidiously called "wine stores," it will be found that these merchants will have disposed of their wet goods and will be found selling food or candy or perhaps will temporarily turn their stores over to some friend who will wish to sell his line of merchandise in the place. Many of these "wine stores" occupy good "stands" and it is understood several deals are hanging fire that have such a change in contemplation.

It is a long time to cider time in southern New Hampshire and suburban Lowell and many people will come to Lowell today to obtain that which is supposed to make the journey across the desert less fatiguing. Getting liquor from Massachusetts to New Hampshire across the state line is another question but the first question is of course to make the purchase in Massachusetts.

Thus it will be seen that it is going to be an exceedingly busy day for those who sell liquor and those who will want to buy a supply to have on hand. Men and women from surrounding towns and cities are expected to pour into Lowell after working hours this afternoon. The law gives John Barleycorn and Robin Hop no extension of time in which to say goodbye today prior to starting on the vacation and at 11 p. m.—genuine time, mind you—the gong will announce that the boat is ready for J. B. and his pal and the bars will be put up against the legalized sale of liquor until action repealing is taken by the federal government.

litical party in this country will ever take possession of a cause so sacred as this.

"I plead that it never may be the property of any group of men in America. It is too big, it is too sacred to be possessed and controlled by any political organization or any element in American life. It belongs to all America, America that loves, oh America that welcomed our ancestors here barefooted and naked with outstretched hands; America that lifted up the poor, forsaken Cuban; America that has taken the Filipino by the hand and is leading him to independence and to a government of his own; America, the only unselfish government in all the world; America, the only country to which our leader could come and know that he would receive the welcome from the people who were always sympathizing with the downtrodden and oppressed of all the world.

America's Voice

"Oh, let your plea be to the conscience of America. We know her; we love her. Unselfish Americans. Never asking anything in return for what she has done for humanity the world over. The only government at the peace table that asked no part of the possessions or properties of any other peoples. Oh, America is with you as well as welcomes you, and under the powerful influence of America we will send back in the not distant future that America's voice has spoken in unmistakable terms for your people. "It is a significant coincidence that when this great leader was seeking an outlet from his people and from the land over which they have called him to preside, when he was seeking equality and in a hidden way crossed the great Atlantic to come to America to ask your aid, to ask her influence—it is significant, I say, that during those days and hours of hardship as he sought to come to us, the greatest legislative body in all the world, by almost a unanimous vote, the United States senate, pledged its sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people.

"And I can say to you, Mr. President, I ask you when you return to your people on the other side of the Atlantic to say to them that they can rely and depend upon this fact that in Ireland's staving and determining her relationships with Great Britain or the other countries, the United States of America will never place an obstacle in the way of Irish independence.

"Tell your people, who say that the only argument against Irish independence is that of the right of a minority, tell them that in the days of '75 when America fought for independence, there was a minority here, and if minorities rights were to be paramount, the flag—the Stars and Stripes—would never float over the free republic here today. Tell them that on the day that Boston was evacuated the minority who stood with the English government against the colonists, the minority who opposed liberty and freedom, the minority who linked themselves with the Tories, sailed away from Boston harbor to the provinces of New Brunswick, away from the cause of liberty of the colonists.

Addressing President De Valera, he said:

"So in these words of welcome and of encouragement from those people who are so keenly and sincerely interested in you and your mission, I know I speak their thoughts and express their hearts when I say to you, each and every one of them here wish you Godspeed and pray the return in safety of you to your country and to hear of the unfolding future on the buildings of Dublin, the flag of the Irish republic, never to be hauled down as long as the earth revolves."

Secretary Boland an Orator

Next to De Valera himself, the greatest demonstration was accorded Secretary Boland, leader of the young forces of Ireland and an orator, a determined, clean-cut youth, who had a strategic part in the Easter week rebellion of 1916 and who escaped the British cordon to come to this country in advance of his chief, making his way across the Atlantic as a coal stoker in a passenger liner.

"We are here to plead the cause of Ireland," declared the youthful leader, member of the Irish parliament from South Roscommon. "We did not come to interfere in American politics but to urge you in this land of the cradle of liberty not to sign a document that will mean perpetual slavery for our country."

The government of the Irish republic is the only government which has the consent of the governed in Ireland, he explained, and De Valera, the president of that government, elected by ballot, by majority vote, is declared, as truly president, speaking democratically, as President Wilson is president of this nation. "In the teeth of bayonets," De Valera was elected to the highest office in Ireland, he said. "Washington was an anarchist in his day; Washington was all that was evil in England, just as our president is the worst evil in the British empire today, yet Washington won, was a successful rebel and today is proclaimed the father of his country."

Ireland's help in the American revolution and in the cause of the Union at the time of the Civil war was recited by the Sinn Fein secretary amid the plaudits of his audience. The statement of the London Times, that "an Irishman soon will be as rare in Ireland as a red Indian on the shores of Manhattan," he answered by declaring that "the Irishman took his vengeance with him to this country, and Britain will feel it here and now."

The whole land is garrisoned heavily, a state of siege exists, he declared. The press is muzzled, and free speech and the right of public gathering is denied. For singing an Irish song, "Fellows of Our Land," written 60 years ago and sung by peoples all over the world, men and women are sentenced to two years' penal servitude, he remarked, under the defence of the realm act.

For the sale of flags, and for assembling in public meetings, women and young girls are arrested in large numbers. In court they refuse to plead, denying the right of British rule and tribunals. They are fined, yet refuse to pay, preferring English dungeons to recognition of British law.

"We are killing English government in Ireland with ridicule," exclaimed Boland. "Britain is the laughing-stock of Europe."

He scouted the argument of Englishmen that the Irishmen are forever "living in the past," or that they cannot unite.

Major Kincaid of New Jersey made a strong speech in support of the Irish appeal for independence and predicted that England will soon find it advisable to grant Ireland full justice.

Resolutions Adopted
The following resolutions were unanimously adopted at yesterday's meeting at Fenway park:

Resolved, That we return thanks to the United States senate for their American patriotic and sympathetic action in instructing the American delegates at Paris to bring the case of Ireland, through its representatives to the peace conference, that her case may be heard.

Resolved, That we declare ourselves unreservedly in favor of the independence of Ireland and demand that our government recognize the Irish republic.

Resolved, That we register our opposition to any proposed League of Nations which does not protect all American rights and ideals and which binds us to guarantee the territorial integrity of the British and Japanese empires.

Gov. Coolidge's Sympathy

The following is a copy of the letter received from Gov. Coolidge in Fenway Park meeting Sunday, June 29: "Mr. W. T. A. Fitzgerald, Boston, Mass.: "Dear Mr. Fitzgerald—Being out of town and under medical care has made it impossible for me to be present at Fenway Park to assist in the welcome to the Honorable Eamon De Valera. "It is probably unnecessary to state that the fundamental American doctrine, as breathed in the prayer of Abraham Lincoln, is:

"That all men everywhere may be free."

"I believe it the duty of Americans peaceably and with order, lawfully and in the observance of the country that exists between nations, always to advocate such freedom, remembering the help that came to our own country from many nationalities during the revolution and the sympathy which was no less desirable exhibited toward us during the war between the states."

"It is especially fitting that we should require such help and sympathy by a similar attitude on our part toward the races which have supported us in the past. Mr. De Valera comes here as Kossuth and others have come. He will find the same ardent love for freedom which the visits of freedom loving men have produced in the past, and especially a desire to provide for the freedom of his race and land."

"Yours very truly,"

"CALVIN COOLIDGE."

Peace Makes Leave Paris

Continued

ment of the future status of Turkey must be made, but for some days, it is expected, the peace making machinery will be operating only through commissions which are studying different phases of the problems before the allies and preparing reports upon the conference.

Lloyd George in England

Premier Lloyd George is in England and many of the other leading figures of the peace conference have left Paris temporarily. Of the American delegation only Secretary Lansing and General Tasker H. Bliss are in Paris. The principal German delegates will leave Versailles today for Germany.

Those Responsible for War

Within the next 30 days the allies will submit to the German government a list of persons who are charged with responsibility for causing the war, or who are alleged to have violated the rules of civilized warfare.

In this connection Dr. Theobald Von Bethmann-Hollweg, who held the office of imperial German chancellor in 1914, when the war broke out, has formally asked the allies to place him on trial instead of former Emperor William. The former chancellor assumes full and complete responsibility for the act of Germany during his incumbency, even bearing the blame for the political acts of the former emperor.

Little News From Germany

Since the signing of the treaty, little has come out of Germany to indicate the frame of mind of the German people generally, nor have the disorders which seemed very serious during the past three weeks assumed a more threatening aspect. The railroad strike which last week virtually paralyzed traffic in Berlin and seemed about to spread throughout the country, has been settled. Government troops sent to restore order in Hamburg have withdrawn and left the city in control of the provisional government established by the radicals.

SUMMER ADVERTISING

Summer shopping ought to be at its height now because the weather is seasonably hot and vacations have started. All kinds of people starting on vacations, invariably, means that summer clothing and other things used on vacations are to be bought and in these lines at least the vacation season has really come to be regarded as a trade stimulator.

The live merchant will undoubtedly do well to make a play directly to this situation as it exists. Summer buying—vacation shopping—is a phase of merchandising that involves a good prospect of profit. But it is something that must have a certain amount of publicity by way of advertising, attached to it to have it recognized by the public.

No need to let down on department or any other store advertising in summer. One reason is because it offers the best weather of all the year to do shopping. To get your share of this mid-summer trade you need to reach as many people as possible, which means having your ad in.

THE WAR BRIDES

More than 5000 American soldiers are bringing home French wives. Judging from the greetings lavished upon the American boys by the French girls, it is not strange that the lads have been smitten. Everybody wishes them good luck. The war-brides will come to live in this western republic and help to make it more cosmopolitan. But another large number of war brides have come here from England and they, too, will help remove our provincialism. These combinations should help in promoting a staunch Americanism that will never show any Bolshevik tendencies.

TEN CENT CARFARE

The decision of the Eastern Massachusetts Railway company to put a 10 cent fare in effect tomorrow, will be a surprise to the people of Lowell. The trustees feel that they cannot continue to operate the system on a seven cent fare, as the deficit for the past month has been approximately $300,000.

It is the intention of the trustees to find just how much it costs to operate each of the 12 divisions of the system and then "fix" the fare accordingly, so as to offer service at cost. They feel that there may be a reduction in fare from the 10 cent figure after a reasonable experiment.

With a 10 cent fare during the summer months, it would seem that the company should make more money than ever before. The change, however, will not be popular with the public and for this reason many will use the cars less than formerly, while others will resort to the jitneys. The high fare on street railways is a double edged sword that, in a great many cases, has defeated its purpose. Whether that will be the result in the present instance remains to be seen after a fair trial.

BOMBING THREATS

Thomas J. Mooney from his cell in California, sends out warning to his friends all over the country not to do any bombing on July 4 on his account. He says it would hurt his case rather than help it. Mooney shows good judgment and if the bombers contemplated anything in that line on Independence day, they had better drop it. The government will reach these desperadoes finally and drive them out of the country or terminate their miserable lives.

It is now alleged that Bolshevik propaganda is being used to create a reign of terror in this country so that the real freedom enjoyed under our constitution will not be allowed to contrast unfavorably with what Trotsky and Lenin call freedom in Russia, and which is but the most cruel and despotic form of brigandage.

Assistant Attorney General Garvan, in asking for an appropriation of $2,000,000 to check the bombers, says that the Bolsheviks of Russia are sending $2,000,000 per month here to promote bombing outrages. They want to destroy law and order here as well as in Russia so that they can loot banks, rob individuals and seize property same as in Russia. The thing is too ridiculous almost to be credible; but we have seen the evidence of it. It must be stamped out, if to accomplish that end costs $2,000,000 or $10,000,000.

IRONY OF FATE

In 1917, two rival republican organizations fought for control of the city of Philadelphia. The fifth ward was a hotbed of strife. There the McNichol-Petrone leader was Carey, and the Vane leader, Ike Deutsch.

A few days before the primary election, the Deutsch gang imported gunmen from New York and there was shooting, blackjacking and violence such as shocked not only the city and the state, but the nation.

In an attack upon the Carey headquarters Eppley, a policeman, was mortally wounded.

Various of the gunmen now are in prison. Deutsch was tried and convicted, but the verdict was overturned.

The other day, Deutsch was sitting in front of his home in the fifth ward with his wife and child by his side. A dog, a pet of his child, was attracted by something and started to run off. The child cried in alarm and Deutsch arose and went in pursuit of the dog.

He had gone but a short distance when he gasped, put his hand to his heart and sank to the pavement. An ambulance was summoned and he was taken to hospital, where he died without recovering consciousness.

Then it was discovered that the ambulance was the same one in which Eppley was taken to the hospital, was driven by the same person and the same intern sat on the seat in the rear.

Also that Deutsch by chance was placed on the same bed in the hospital in which Eppley died, and was attended by the same nurse and the same surgeon.

And that, so far as can be calculated, there was practically no variation in the hour between the wounding of Eppley and his death and the collapse of Deutsch and the ending of his life.

Rather a rare chain of coincidences as if ruled by the hand of Fate.

BOLSHEVIST "FREEDOM"

The following decree, issued by Zinoviev and published in the Bolshevik organ, the Northern Commune of Sept. 13, 1918, shows the conditions under which meetings may be held:

1: All societies, unions and associations—political, economic, artistic, religious, etc.—formed on the territory of the Union of the Commune of the Northern Region must be registered at the corresponding soviet or committees of the village poor.

2: The constitution of the union or society, a list of founders and members of the committee, with names and addresses, and a list of all members, with their names and addresses, must be submitted at registration.

3: All books, minutes, etc., must always be kept at the disposal of representatives of the soviet power for purposes of revision.

4: Three days' notice must be given to the soviet, or to the committee of the village poor, of all public and private meetings.

5: All meetings must be open to the representatives of the soviet power, viz.: the representatives of the central and district soviet, the committee of the poor and the commandant of the revolutionary police force.

6: Unions and societies which do not comply with these regulations will be regarded as counter-revolutionary organizations and prosecuted.

Reading this decree in connection with the declaration of Lenin, it is easy to see why there are no public meetings of protest against the Bolshevik rule. This decree reminds those who knew Russia in the past of the suppression of free speech under the czar; but it is in reality more sweeping than anything of the kind promulgated by the czar.

Every bit of real information regarding what is going on in Russia shows that Bolshevism has resulted in less freedom, instead of more freedom, except for the Bolshevik leaders and their mercenary army.

In view of the cry of the Bolsheviks in America for "free speech," the situation in Russia is all the more startling.

In "A Letter to American Workmen" by Lenin, published in the Liberator of January, 1919, Lenin makes the following statements:

"While the old bourgeois and democratic constitutions, for instance, proclaimed formal equality and the right of free assembly, the constitution of the soviet repudiates the hypocrisy of a formal equality of all human beings. Since we here are concerned with the task of overthrowing the bourgeoisie, only fools or traitors will insist on the formal equality of the bourgeoisie. Our soviets have taken over all usable buildings in the cities and towns out of the hands of the rich and have placed them at the disposal of the workmen and peasants for meeting and organization purposes."

In an article in the Bolshevik organ, Pravda, republished in the Liberator of September and October, 1918, Lenin said:

The nearer we get to the complete military suppression of the bourgeoisie the more dangerous becomes for us the petty bourgeois anarchic inclinations. And these inclinations cannot be combated merely by propaganda and agitation, by the organization of organizations; they must be combated by compulsion.

Light is shed upon the results of this decree by a quotation from Pravda of August 6, 1918. A passage reads:

"KAZAN, Aug. 4th.—The provincial congress of the soviets of the peasants has been dissolved because of the absence from it of poor peasants and because its state of mind is obviously counter-revolutionary."

If a soviet congress is dissolved because it does not agree with the Bolshevik rulers, what chance would an ordinary meeting stand? Evidently, "freedom of speech" in Russia means freedom to praise Lenin and his associates, merely that and nothing more.

Congressman Fitzgerald says the Boston chamber of commerce is not doing much to help Boston. We have remarked in reference to the operations of that important organization, that it wastes a vast amount of valuable time and labor conducting referenda for the purpose of reaching decisions on questions that any intelligent business man would decide more efficiently in ten minutes than would the thousands of members in ten days.

Many Boston hotels advertise that the wake for John Barleycorn will be rather festively celebrated this evening in their dining rooms, and for the time being at any rate, it need not be regarded as a lodge of sorrow. We failed to notice any part of the ad relating to free drinks on the house, but there is nothing like starting for a wake like that full of hope.

Do you know of a patriotic Irish father somewhere who is in a quandary as to what his new son shall be named? Why not suggest the name of Eamonn? Rather of a good distinction to have been named for the first president of the Irish republic!

It is another indication of America's progress as a world power and leader in world transportation when we read that last Wednesday a liner named Lake Granby steamed away from Chicago en route for Liverpool, the first ship to make this commercial trip.

Kansas is starting on the job of harvesting 225,000,000 bushels of wheat valued at $450,000,000. The grain in the berry looks like a field of gold and later it is converted into a barrel of gold, the cost of which is to come from the pockets of the consumers.

At last, a court decision has been made in which both interested parties claim the result satisfies them. We refer to the New York decision affecting the "wets" and the "drys."

The treaty has been signed. Now the international composers may proceed to set it to words and music. And may the theme be one of perpetual peace.

How was it you took stock in the report that the former crown prince had escaped from Holland? Did you not recall that he had pledged his word as a German prince not to try to escape?

The First Motor Van
An ancient motor van usually managed to have a breakdown about once a week and generally at a most inopportune moment in the thick of the traffic. One day after slowly snorting its way right into the middle of the traffic there was a sudden whirring of wheels, a loud snap and the weary and worn framework came to a dead stop.

"Look here," said the policeman on duty to the driver, "this infernal thing is always breaking down. Let's see; what's your number? Yes, 1592."

"Garn!" came from the youth who was in charge of the vehicle immediately behind. "That ain't its number; that's the year it was built!"—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Typographical Error

William Howard Taft, in addressing a class of would-be editors at Yale, was trying to impress upon them the importance of accuracy and the unfairness of misquoting public men.

"Sometimes," he said, "a slight error may have momentous consequences. A friend of mine went into a restaurant and ordered noodle soup. In the very first spoonful he discovered a needle."

"George," he cried to the waiter, "come here. See what I found in this soup?" A needle.

"George examined the needle critically and grinned.

"That's all right, sub, just a little mistake, sub; just a mere typographical error, a typographical error. Dat needle should have been a noodle, sub."

His Useless Bluff

One day a barber shop had but one empty chair. A man wearing a very big hat and walking with a great deal of swagger, entered, hung his hat on a peg, and then drawing a revolver he turned to the idle man and said:

"I want a shave—just a common shave. I want no talk. Don't ask me if I want a haircut or a shampoo. Don't speak of weather or politics. If you speak to me I'll shoot."

He took the chair, held the revolver across his legs, and was shaved with promptness and dispatch. When he got up he returned the shooter to his hip pocket, put on his hat, and after a broad chuckle he said to the cashier:

"That's the way to keep a barber quiet. He didn't utter a word."

"No, sir—he couldn't."

"Couldn't?"

"No, sir; he's deaf and dumb."

Miracles

Do I believe in the miracle sign? As wrought by the ancient prophet? As miracled water turned to wine? That the wedding-guest might quaff it?

Miracled fishes and loaves of bread, And Lazarus miracled back from the dead.

Or any miracle heard or read? Well, pray you, why should I scoff it?

For I look up through my miracled eyes To the miracle skies above me. Then I look at you and I realize A miracle for and of me.

Something has turned my blood to wine. Something has laid your lips on mine. Greatest of miracles this I love. That you are alive and love me!

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

I have heard considerable talk among the kiddies this year regarding the fireworks, which are being offered for sale. They say the sparklers, which have been their delight for years, do not burn as long as they did formerly and that the explosives are much louder than any they ever had before. It is probable that some of the high grade powder which was being manufactured for munitions in the war has something to do with the loudness of the explosives. As for the sparklers, nothing, not even money, goes as far as it formerly did.

Our national government, abruptly economical, now that the peace treaty has been signed, has through the national railroad administration, ordered work stopped on the new roundhouse at Middlesex Village. We might feel disposed to be somewhat peeved over this but we can have this consolation: This roundhouse is now about 70 per cent finished. The national railway administrator, Walter D. Hines, will not probably let a building lacking only 30 per cent of completion, hold idle very long waiting for the comparatively inexpensive finishing touches to be put on. From a mechanical and railroader's standpoint, the new roundhouse is a beauty and it ought to be finished and put in use as quickly as possible. There are other things the government can more efficiently economize on than on this Middlesex Village roundhouse. The government will doubtless be reimbursed for what it expends in this way.

Now that the local fruit dealers are beginning to get in their annual supply of watermelons for the summer season, it will be well for them to bear in mind that the board of health does not allow such melons to be cut open and exposed on fruit stands. I was talking with a member of the board the other day and in the course of our conversation he happened to look across the street and spied a large melon cut in quarters and exposed to whatever germs a dusty and much traveled city street might contain. The owner of the store was immediately notified of his violation of regulations and promptly got the fruit under cover. The board believes that it is an unsanitary practice to have the melons exposed in this way and not wholly necessary to their speedy sale. Other fruit dealers will do well to take a hint from this experience.

MANY LOWELL PEOPLE HEAR DE VALERA

It is estimated that at least 1000 Lowell people were present at Fenway park, Boston, yesterday afternoon, to help receive Eamonn de Valera, provisional president of the Irish republic. The Lowell delegation was representative of the city's various Irish societies and even in the musical phase of the day's program Lowell was represented by the Irish Volunteer band. This organization led the Wolfe Tones, Sheridan and Meagher Guards, who presented an excellent appearance. These latter organizations attempted to form part of a guard of honor as Mr. de Valera entered the park, but the eagerness of the crowd to get close to the guest of the occasion made their efforts practically futile.

LOWELL SINGERS AT SALISBURY BEACH

There was singing galore at Salisbury beach yesterday, the occasion being an outing under the auspices of St. Joseph's church choir. The affair took the place of the annual banquet and proved most enjoyable. In order to give the singers an opportunity to spend the day at the beach the clergy of the parish celebrated a low mass instead of the parish mass at 10.30 o'clock and there were no vesper services in the afternoon.

The excursionists, men and women, attended the 7.30 o'clock mass at St. Joseph's and at the close of the services boarded automobiles and enjoyed a ride to Salisbury. Upon reaching the seashore headquarters were installed at Hotel Kelley and a varied musical program was given during the remaining hours of the forenoon, much to the delight of the guests at the hotel and nearby camps. At 1 o'clock a most appetizing seafood dinner was served at the Kelley restaurant and the repast was followed by more music.

The afternoon was devoted to sporting events, while some of the singers enjoyed a dip. Games were played and before leaving a light luncheon was served. The return trip was most enjoyable and all were unanimous in saying the affair was the best ever. The arrangements for the event were in charge of the choir director, Telesphore Malo, who wishes to extend his heartfelt thanks to the following who supplied gratis the automobiles for the trip: Dr. A. J. Gagnon, Z. A. Norman, Stephen Rochette, Edmond Lambert, Joseph Bosse, Alphonse Lemieux and Arthur G. Lavellie.

CITY EMPLOYEES HOLD OUTING

Employees of various municipal departments enjoyed an outing arranged by the city teamsters at Willow Dale yesterday. Special cars left Merrimack square in the morning and the return trip was not made until the early evening. The usual picnic program was carried out and at noon luncheon was served. Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy of the street department addressed those present in the afternoon and other members of the city council also made their appearance.

PIANO RECITAL

It was a very appreciative audience that attended the annual piano recital by the pupils of the Guitbault academy of pianoforte, which was held last evening in Colonial hall in Middle street. The musicians were assisted by Miss Clemence Simard, soprano; Mr. Lucien Tetreault, tenor and Mr. William Bilodeau, violinist. Each number was given with precision and ease and the excellent work accomplished by the pupils reflected great credit not only upon the pupils themselves but also the director of the academy, Louis Napoleon Guitbault, organist at St. Jean Baptiste church and his assistant, Miss Alice Renaud. The evening's program was presided over by Rt. Rev. Bishop du Silva, pastor of St. Anthony's church. Miss Clemence Simard highly entertained with two of her favorite selections, "Parla" by Ardit and "Stances" by Flegler. Miss Simard is an accomplished soprano and her singing is always highly appreciated by the lovers of good music. She has made her mark before. Another very pleasing number was the singing by Mr. Lucien Tetreault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edouard Tetreault of 90 Aiken street, who, although but 15 years of age, has demonstrated that he

Ithaca, N.Y.—"Three years ago I suffered from pains in my right side, so severe that I could not raise my foot from the floor. Pains would shoot down my limbs and through my back, and the doctor said I had an abscess. I was in bed two weeks with an itchy on my side and expected any day that I might have to go to a hospital for an operation. A friend came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it, and after taking six bottles I felt well and strong, do my own work and dressmaking for others. I cannot speak too highly of your medicine and recommend it to others who suffer with female trouble. MAIL FOR SWEDEN BY PARCEL POST

Articles of merchandise will now be received at the Lowell postoffice for mailing to Sweden by parcel post without the need of obtaining a special export license, as has been the case in the past, according to an announcement of the war trade board received by Postmaster Meschan today. This announcement states that Sweden has been added to the list of European countries to which an export license is applicable and opens up the parcel post system between this country and Sweden for practically all articles under 11 pounds in weight. The adding of Sweden to the list has been expected for some time and has been the object of many inquiries by Swedish speaking people of Lowell, who have been put to some inconvenience by the system existing in the past.

BLACK ELECTED HEAD OF MOVIE PICTURE LEAGUE

Hundreds of Lowell people will be interested in the announcement made by the Associated Press Saturday of the election of Alfred S. Black as president of the Motion Picture Exhibitors League of America at the annual convention of that organization in St. Louis.

Local interest in the announcement results from the fact that Mr. Black is owner of the Merrimack Square theatre of this city and has hundreds of friends here, made through his business associations.

Mr. Black's new position is the highest gift which the movie men of the country can give to one of their fellow exhibitors and is the position which brings the exhibitors in contact with the government and the general public.

plays under Mr. Black's direction, the latter was in this city continuously supervising the project and became acquainted with hundreds of professional men. Since then he has frequently made visits here and has kept in constant touch with the friends he made upon his entry into the local theatrical field.

Mr. Black is president of a chain of theatres known as the Maine Theatres, Inc., extending from Maine to New York and including houses in Rockland, Me., Bath, Me., Westbrook, Me., Saco, Me., Manchester, N. H., Utica, N. Y. and this city.

Last year Mr. Black was a member of the committee of national exhibitors chosen to appear before the ways and means committee of the national house to plead against a 15 cent tax on every reel of film used every day. Through the efforts of the committee the tax was reduced to 10 and thus an inevitable blow at the general public in the form of increased admission prices averted.

The Exhibitors' league was organized to promote the welfare of the motion picture industry and its influence in bringing about a higher and cleaner standard of plays has already been felt. Mr. Black's home is in Rockland, Me.

ON ENFORCEMENT OF PROHIBITION

COLUMBUS, O., June 30.—Wayne B. Wheeler, secretary of the National Anti-Saloon league, said today that wartime prohibition could be fairly well enforced even before the new code was enacted.

"There is a penalty in the original war prohibition act of $1000 or one year's imprisonment for selling beer or wine," he said. "It is the duty of the United States district attorneys to enforce this law."

"If liquor dealers think there is no law, they will wake up in jail. The courts will determine what kind of beer comes under the prohibition."

"The fact that in New York a judge thinks 3.3 per cent beer is non-intoxicating is not binding on the nation."

"When the enforcement code comes to a final vote it will pass at least 5 to 1 in congress. We confidently expect that congress will pass a workable and enforceable code."

A NEAR HOLDUP

Three drunks tried to hold up another drunk behind the Mann school on Broadway early Sunday morning, but before the trio had achieved any success Patrolman William Keegan dropped in on the party, with the result that the trio took to their heels. One of the men ran down Fletcher street, but was unable to outdistance Keegan, and was sent in to the station on a drunkenness charge.

The police were unable to locate the complainant in the case and the man was released by the probation officer yesterday. It is said that two shots were fired during the affair, but whether the bullets came from Keegan's gun or were fired by one of the alleged hold-up men could not be learned.

SIGN FRANCO-AMERICAN ALLIANCE AGREEMENT

PARIS, June 30.—The Franco-American convention was signed Saturday on behalf of the two governments, according to the newspapers. It is said that the covenant includes several articles and specifies that violation of the peace treaty by Germany will give France the right to request American and British assistance.

The Journal says that the coincidence in the signing of the convention and the peace treaty on the same day is part of the spirit of union among the associated states to see that the treaty is carried out.

The newspapers generally urge the French people to begin at once the work of economic reconstruction.

PARIS, June 30 (Havas).—The first public announcement of the text of the text of the defensive pact between France, Great Britain and the United States will be made in the Chamber of Deputies, the Reho de Paris says. The document, according to this paper, contains clauses intended to justify it before British and American public opinion.

The task of the allied and associated powers is not ended with the signing of the treaty and the nations must continue to be united in order to see that the clauses of the treaty are carried out, President Poincare declares in an interview in the Paris edition of the London Daily Mail.

It will make some years for France to regain her normal mode of life and what France needs most at present is ships, he says, because only an increase in imports can bring about a decrease in the present high prices of raw material and the necessities of life. In principle, he adds, the allies are agreed on this point and the people of France hope that the other nations will aid them in restoring their country, which suffered more from the war.

BRITISH PAPERS

COMMENT ON PEACE

LONDON, June 30.—Relief, gratification and hope for a speedy readjustment of the world are voiced in newspaper editorials on the signing of the treaty of peace.

Several newspapers mingle thanksgiving with warnings that there must be no relaxing of effort to make the League of Nations effective.

The Daily News mentions apprehension regarding Japan and the far east and denounces elements "on both sides of the Atlantic" which, it asserts, "are trying to stir up discord between England and America."

The Telegraph appears to fear nothing in this direction, saying:

"We made this peace in a co-operation and friendship with the American people such as has never hitherto been approached."

FACTORY WHISTLE SUCCEEDS SCHOOL BELL IN CALLING THEM TO PLAY

BY FRED TURBYVILLE

GARY, Ind., June 28.—It used to be sports were only for the school-boys, and rich men who elected to play a few years after they'd quit college. But now it's for all.

On July Fourth 300 or 400 well trained and athletic young men will stage a meet on Gleason field in this city for championship honors of the American Industrial association.

Such stars as Jole May and Jimmy Fitzgerald, famed runners, will participate. It is believed 25,000 workers will be in the stands to watch the best athletic contests of the year in America.

Johnny Lodwick, national representative of the new athletic league, has succeeded in lining up teams from some of the largest industries in America. Each of these teams is coached by a competent man, generally a man who has deserted college sports for the more productive industrial field.

The industrial league is growing by leaps and bounds. In another year it probably will take in a majority of the big plants in the country.

All of the big rubber plants in Akron, O., are members. The Packard motor company of Detroit and the Willys-Overland of Toledo are enthusiasts. The steel companies of Gary and U.S. Steel, the Westinghouse Electric and the Ingersoll-Rand company are in.

In Indiana ten interurban cities have formed an interurban industrial athletic league.

Entries which have been pouring into Lodwick's hands indicate that the Fourth of July meet will run second only to the Willard-Dempsey fight.

WILLARD-DEMPSLEY BOUT

Rickard Orders Boxers to Eliminate Heavy Hitting to Save Hands

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 30.—For fear of an injury to his hands, Jack Dempsey today was instructed to eliminate all heavy hitting from his training bout. The instructions were issued at the request of Tex Rickard, who intends to make the same request of Willard.

Dempsey is so far physically that there is more than remote danger of his going stale. Many observers lean to the opinion that he reached the peak of condition some days ago and only the most skillful handling will permit him to retain the form that has made him the marvel of all those who have had a chance to examine him.

This afternoon he planned to box four easy rounds. It is the idea of trainer Jimmy De Forest to give his charge just enough work to keep him supple and maintain his judgment of distance. Dempsey will change his morning road runs to a fast walk and by Wednesday will be through with training.

Willard plans to continue his recent burst of training speed for at least two days more, unless a severe weather causes him to change his mind.

Willard Makes Statement
Dismissing his failure to do road work Willard said today:

"I know that many close followers of boxing do not agree with me on this point, but I am convinced that in my case at least I feel better without running on the road. You can run a small pony all day, but you will kill a big truck horse with the same trick. I feel sure that I can and have developed all the size and wind endurance I

JOHN LODWICK

The meet will be staged on a field costing a quarter of a million dollars. Martin Delaney of the Chicago Athletic club will referee; Walter Eckersall, football star, will be starter; Chas. H. Wilson of the A.A.U. will be timer and Harry Tell of the University of Illinois will be a judge.

The booming city of Gary is enthusiastic over the meet. Preparations are being made to entertain a huge crowd. Gary is now a city of 100,000 and only a few years old.

HISTORIC PEACE MEETS AS SEEN BY EYE OF THE PAINTER

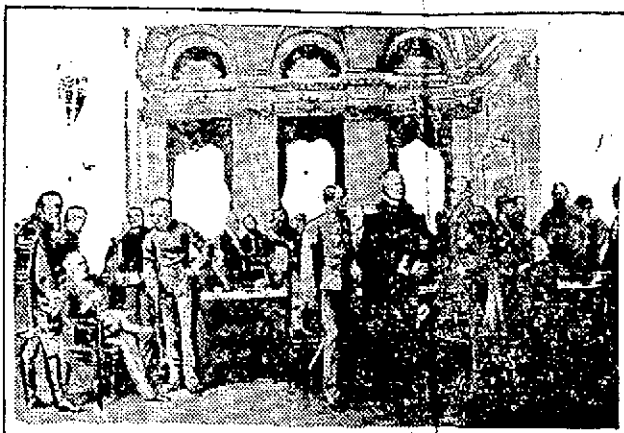

The congress of Vienna, 1814-15, followed the fall of Napoleon. Peace lasted for 40 years after it had finished its work, but the settlements it forced held the seeds of future wars. Three men really controlled the conference, Castlereagh for England, Metternich for Austria and Talleyrand for France.

In 1856, the congress of Paris followed the Crimean war, in which Turkey, England and France fought to keep Russia from dismembering the Turkish empire. Independent Rumania grew out of this settlement. It was this congress which issued the declaration of Paris, revising the rules of maritime warfare and fixing the status of neutral shipping.

This photograph is from the painting by Wagner of the meeting between Bismarck and President Thiers of France, at Versailles, in 1870, when Bismarck gave Thiers the terms of peace that lost Alsace and Lorraine to France. There was little deliberation, nothing for France to do but to sign.

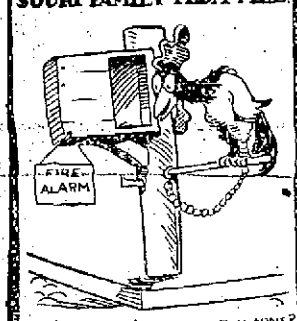

The congress of Berlin, in 1878, followed war between Russia and Turkey in which Russia defeated the Turk. But Russia was prevented from driving the Turk from Europe by the action of the congress. England, France and Germany, as well as Russia and Turkey, participated in the congress.

queried the old toper in front of the bar. "Whatya goin' to do yourself?" was the quick retort of the bartender. And so it goes. One didn't know what he would do to earn a living after July 1, and the other didn't know where he would get a drink after that date. And while the bartender was a bit peeved because of the toper's question they were both of one mind to the extent that they hoped the president would lift the prohibition lid. It seems to be the general impression that the lid will be lifted soon after the first of July, but just where one finds a funnion for that thought is another question. It seems to be a case of the wish leading the belief. But there are some Lowellians who will not go dry even though the lid should go on good and tight and they don't belong to the so-called drinking set, either—not all of them at least. Some of them in fact are known to be temperance advocates. But that's the way of the world. The average wholesaler knows a whole lot of those fellows. And besides the home trade, the Lowell wholesalers have done a great out-of-town business. Three New Hampshire automobiles loaded up at one place Saturday with booze approximating, it was said, $700. One Lowell club, it was stated today, has invited its members to foregather tonight to see to it that nothing in the line of liquid goes over to the dry season. But those who have the stuff to sell have not reduced the price. Just what they are going to do with it after July 1, is something that they are free to confess they do not know. It was rumored today that some of Germany Signs.

By Edmund Vance Cooke

She signs it with the pen, who thought to sign it with the sword
Blood of her veins and golden gains she freely, vainly poured,
And prestige she had coveted and honors she had stored,
Yet day by day her shame and guilt grew like a Jonah's gourd,
Till now she signs it with a pen, who hoped to use the sword.

So ever when a pride-mad prince shall pledge a blood-red day!
So ever when wolf-men shall lead sheep-minded men astray!
So ever when a tribe would crush its brother tribes to clay!
So even to us should we forsake our ancient, lawful way
Or dare to raise the cankered sword the Prussian castr away.

the hotels would celebrate to-night, a case of bidding farewell to the wet and welcoming the dry season, but nothing official along that line was reported. It does not sound like a glorious celebration, anyway, for the hotel men.

New Drinkers on Deck

It was stated today by men who keep tabs on the drinkers and non-drinkers that men who never drank before are wearing out the bar rail and their wives' patience. Men who used to take a wee nip are coming home with sails full set. Men who always drank are getting on jags that threaten to lap far over into the drought era and, they do tell, that a beer sign are now making the experiment.

Apocryphal of the dry season are the following verses by John Russell of 28 Rock street:

HANNIGIN—FLANNIGIN
Sez Hannigin to Flannigin,
"I see you have begun agin
To come home with a brannagin,
A thing ye shudn't do."
Sez Flannigin to Hannigin,
"Now none uv yer shannagin,
And if I have begun agin,
Well, what is that to you?"
"Well Flannigin," sez Hannigin,
"I thot ye wuz a man agin,
But yer just an also 'ran agin'
Amongst a crowd of bums."
"But Hannigin," sez Flannigin,
"You like it too man, now and thin,
And what will ye be doin' whin
The first of July comes?"
So Hannigin and Flannigin,
Both go and get a brannagin,
For they can't turn the cau agin.

Prohibition Goes Dry at Midnight When War-Time Prohibition Becomes Effective

ROCHESTER TO DEFY DRY LAW

Department of Justice Will
Prohibition

Persons Who Undertake Sale
of 2-3-4 Per Cent Beer Will
Be Arrested

WASHINGTON, June 30.—War-time
prohibition effective at midnight will
be strictly enforced by the department
of justice, insofar as existing machinery
can function to that end.

that open violation of the law, threatened
in New York and other cities, could be promptly dealt with by federal agents. Whether the department's present force will be able to keep up secret traffic remains to be seen, but in this connection it is pointed out that the increased appropriation asked of congress for general law enforcement would permit a considerable enlargement of the department's force.

Beer containing 2 1/2 per cent of alcohol
is regarded by justices of this city
as intoxicating, and persons who undertake its sale will be arrested. Suits
brought in Baltimore to have the
intoxicating within the meaning of
law is to come to a final judgment expected that before final judgment is rendered, congress will have specifically acted in the enforcement law which
amount of alcohol which beverages
may contain.

officials and many members of
congress war-time prohibition will have no effect on the Reed amendment prohibiting the transportation of intoxicants into territory where the manufacture and sale are forbidden by local law. Information has reached the department that many persons living in dry territory have stored quantities of liquor in wet cities with a view to transporting it after today, but enforcement of the Reed amendment will in no wise be relaxed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—
President Wilson announced last night
he would not suspend operation of war
time prohibition law. In cablegram to the White House he said "when demobilization is terminated, my power
to act without congressional action

To Defy Law

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 30.—"Whiskey, beer and all other forms of alcoholic beverages will be sold over the bars in Rochester and throughout the state," said a local liquor dealer today.

Appeal to Wilson

NEW YORK, June 30.—Upon his arrival in New York President Wilson will be met by a delegation representative of all the labor unions in New York, who will present him with a demand that a referendum vote be taken on the constitutional amendment making national prohibition a law. This announcement was made today by E. R.
Hannan, president of the Central Federal Union.

NORFOLK, Va., June 30.—Four fire-

million dollars was burned today in a fire which threatened to destroy a warehouse of the Imperial Tobacco company. The building and contents were valued at $4,000,000.

TO SELL 2-3-4 PER CENT
BEER IN BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE, Md., June 30.—In a statement today announcing the local government policy regarding the enforcement of the war-time prohibition law, United States District Attorney Samuel K. Dennis said that light wines and beer containing 2 1/2 per cent alcohol or less might be sold in Baltimore after today. The statement was made after a conference with the police board.

SEN. GERRY PRAISES LEAGUE

Acceptance of Covenant Absolute Necessity to Protect American Rights

Senator Just Back From Europe Says People Look
to U. S. to Lead

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Describing the League of Nations as a workable plan "to marshal the civilized nations against such acts of aggression as Germany and Austria perpetrated in this war," Senator Gerry, democrat, Rhode Island, told the senate today that acceptance of the league covenant was an absolute necessity to protect American rights and preserve civilization
during the reconstruction period.

Predicting his argument upon observations during his visit to England, France and Belgium, he said that the people of Europe were pinning hope of a better era upon a faith that the United States would take the lead in a league to prevent war. He analyzed the league covenant and declared it contained nothing subverting American sovereignty nor destroying American policies.

"The real question," he said, "is whether we believe that it is better for the United States to have a say in European matters and try to prevent another horrible war or to keep our hands off and wait until the world is aflame and then endeavor to assert our might to protect our rights."

"In one case we have a hand in shaping the destinies of mankind. In the other we suffer the consequences which are likely to come from an uncontrollable situation in Europe."

"For four years Europe has passed through an era of horrors, deprivations and bloodshed that has shaken
the very foundations of our civilization. All nations have enormous war debts and heavy taxes to pay, and many of the necessities of life are produced with difficulty. America is looked to as the main hope. The people of western Europe went through all this terrible period and kept their heads, because they believed that there was a better time coming to them. It is this spirit that is the foundation, in my judgment, of the support that President Wilson has received for his League of Nations."

Deploring partisan consideration of the league proposal, Mr. Gerry said:
"Many prominent republicans in my state have expressed the hope that I might be able to lend my support to the adoption of this covenant."

The recommendations of Elihu Root for incorporation of reservations in the ratification were based, the Rhode Island senator asserted, on a misconception. Referring to Mr. Root's assertion that withdrawal from league membership was handicapped by the provision that all obligations must be fulfilled before withdrawal, he said:

"It is inconceivable that the United States would think of withdrawing unless it had fulfilled its obligations."

The provision for limitation of armaments, he asserted, imposed no moral obligation on any nation to adopt the suggestions of the league council regarding armaments. He declared article 10 was only an agreement to prevent external aggression such as Germany was guilty of, and added:

"One cannot forget that we have never been forced into war under the Monroe Doctrine, which is practically an assertion of a similar condition limited to the Americas."

keepers Plan Big Celebra-

Special Obsequies Over
Passing of "King Barley-
corn"—5825 to Lose Jobs

BOSTON, June 30.—Hotel, restaurant and saloonkeepers made preparations today for the wettest night in their history, announcing "New Year's eve" celebrations and special obse-quies over the passing of "King Barley Corn," while liquor store clerks were kept busy filling from their already depleted stocks the last orders from the thirsty ones who were making thoughtful provision for the morrow.

Statisticians said that 2285 brewer-
ies, hotels, saloons, bottled goods
shops and clubs in the state would be affected by the operation of the war
prohibition order, and that 5825 bartenders, porters, bottlers, brewery
workers and wine clerks would lose
their jobs. Liquor license fees in the
state amounted to more than $3,000,000
in 1918.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 30.—The
"war-time" ban which will go into effect tonight will close 500 saloons,
and deprive 500 drug stores and 200
clubs of the right to sell liquor. In a last minute effort to stop the application of the prohibition order, the Retail Liquor Dealers' association of the state announced that a motion would
be made in the federal court at New Haven today for an injunction forbidding the enforcement of the measure

To Take a Chance

NEW YORK, June 30.—Six thousand saloonkeepers, members of the United Liquor Dealers' association,
will meet today to determine their final course in meeting war time prohibition. Meanwhile they plan to take a chance and keep open after midnight
for the sale of all kinds of drinks, including whiskey.

Efforts will be made to induce the
attorney general of New York to seek
an injunction restraining the federal
government from enforcing the law.
Hotels and restaurants, with few exceptions, are prepared for a big celebration tonight, but many of them
will limit their sales to beer and light
wines after 12 o'clock.

INCREASE POLICE VICE AND LIQUOR SQUADS

the liquor business, some increase in
the size of the police vice and liquor
squad will be made by Mayor Thompson as the head of the public safety
department. At present the vice squad
numbers six men and the liquor squad,
two.

The licensed liquor dealers will obey
the mandates of the law to the letter,
but some provisions will necessarily
have to be made to offset the "speak-easy" and kitchen barroom business,
which undoubtedly will attempt to get
a footing in the city. To what extent
the police forces will be augmented,
Mayor Thompson is not ready to say.

Unbounded Enthusiasm

Fully 60,000 people crowded the Fen-

sympathy with the cause he represents
man who now stands foremost as the

of the Irish spirit of freedom and na-

The enthusiasm that swept over the
vast audience was actually unbounded.
At 3 o'clock practically all of the
bleachers as well as the grandstand
were filled with people and yet the
crowds continued to surge into the centre of the field until standing room
was at a premium.

The speaker's stand was erected near
the grandstand and so many people
crowded upon it who had no right to

STRIKE AT BLEACHERY

Employees Walk Out When Ex-Soldier is Refused Work and Foreigner Hired

About 30 of the 40 employees of the bleachery department of the Lowell Bleachery went out on strike this morning after an ex-soldier, who was formerly employed at the plant, was refused employment and a foreigner was given work.

Treasurer Coolidge of the company,
when questioned about the strike, later gave out the following statement for publication:

"A young man who served in the army called at the plant this morning and asked for work. This young man had formerly worked for us, but left us without notice and we believe that when he enlisted in the service he was on somebody else's payroll. Inasmuch as he left us without notice, we refused to re-employ him this morning and accordingly the walkout on the part of the 30 employees."

"Later in the forenoon a committee from the bleach house called at the office and they objected because an Armenian was given employment in the department. Now we have employed all our own soldiers who have returned and those who are still in the service will be given employment as soon as they apply for it. We are willing to give Americans the privilege of employment, but we do not feel obliged to give employment to men who left us and went to work elsewhere prior to their enlistment in the service. That is our position. The committee will meet us again at 4.30 o'clock."

CAN BUILD WITHIN THE APPROPRIATION

The new bath house on the bank of the Merrimack river off Varnum ave.
will be built within the appropriation made by the city council for the purpose—$17,000—it was decided at a conference of local contractors and a representative of the architect of the bath house today. It was agreed to adjust the plans to conform to the appropriations made for the project.

When bids were opened at the office of the park department, Saturday
it was found that the lowest bidders were D. J. Walker on the general contract and Farrell & Conaton for the plumbing. Their combined estimates were several thousand dollars above
the appropriations, but today the matter was adjusted so that the building can be erected within the $17,000. The two firms mentioned will probably be awarded the contracts formally by the municipal council at its meeting tomorrow.

Division. Although General Edwards has received no official notification the announcement was conveyed to him at the department of the northeast today by Capt. Jean Le Meitour of the French army who was for many months liaison officer for the Yankee Division. Captain Le Meitour will leave for France tomorrow.

and Emperor of Japan
Send Congratulations

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. GEORGE WASHINGTON, Sunday, June 29.—(By Associated Press).—Pres. Wilson received today a series of notable de-patches as he departed from Brest, France. These messages came from King George, King Alfonso and the emperor of Japan, and congratulated
the president on the large part he took during the war and in the peace conference.

It was a majestic naval spectacle that President Wilson saw as he stood on the bridge of the George Washington watching the receding shores of Europe, and waving farewell
as the French shore batteries boomed.

OPPOSED TO INCREASE IN STREET CAR FARES

The executive committee of the board of trade held an unusually busy meeting early this afternoon and took up several matters of current local interest.

The committee went on record as being opposed to the increase in fares on the Bay State Street Railway Co. system which goes into effect tomorrow and which provides for a flat fare of 10 cents, on the ground that the increase is unnecessary.

Before any actual protest is made, however, the board will make an attempt to get united action on the part of every chamber of commerce in the cities served by the Bay State
Co., and with this purpose in mind, Secretary John J. O'Rourke was instructed to write to other chambers of commerce with regard to their stand on the matter.

The committee also went on record
as being in favor of the daylight saving law. There is a movement on foot among New England chambers of commerce to have the law continued in effect in New England regardless of what action the rest of the country takes.

It was pointed out that Cleveland and Detroit already have city ordinances providing for the daylight saving law and Pennsylvania and New York have state laws.

A third matter of importance which came up at this afternoon's meeting was a discussion of the erection of an up-to-date hotel in this city. Members of the committee were of the opinion that just because Lowell was near Boston, that was no reason why she should not have as good hotels as other cities of her size. The example of Troy, N. Y., very near Albany, a city boasting some of the best hotels
in the country, was pointed out and it was shown that Troy's location did not in any way minimize the excellence of her hotel accommodations.

The necessity for a stricter enforcement of the so-called shingle ordinance, a product of the board of trade, was urged. The ordinance provides that any new building that is erected within the city limits must have a roof of non-inflammable material and where wooden roofs are to be repaired not more than one-fourth of the surface can be reshingled with wood. The law also provides that all roofs within the city limits must be of non-combustible material by August, 1923.

BIG RIOTS AT BREST, FRANCE

Exchange of Shots Between
French Sailors

Two French Civilians Killed;
Five U. S. Soldiers and

BREST, June 29.—Two French
civilians were killed and five Ameri-
can soldiers and sailors were injured
severely and more than 100 wounded
in riots here last night.

Two of the American soldiers are expected to die.

The casualties occurred as a result
of the exchange of shots between American military and naval police
and French sailors.

The trouble began, according to
available accounts, when an American
naval officer, who is said to have been
drinking heavily, tore down a French
flag and trampled on it. A crowd of Frenchmen attacked the officer and it
is said, kicked and beat him until he
was unconscious.

A mob of French civilians and sol-
the Hotel Moderne, where American
officers were quartered. They burned
a sentry box and threw stones at Americans in uniform wherever they found them. The Americans it is said
retaliated.

A company of marines with fixed
bayonets was hurried to the scene
and soon restored order. Admiral
Henri Salaun, the French naval commander at Brest, ordered the marines
to return to their barracks. As the marines marched back to their quarters, it is declared, they were pursued by a mob throwing stones and
bricks.

The city was quiet today.

NO MUNICIPAL EMBLEM FOR SERVICE MEN

The bronze medals which were to
have been distributed to the veterans
of the world war whose homes are in Lowell as a mark of appreciation on
the part of the city, will not be given
out in connection with the Fourth of July welcome home celebration here
next Friday, according to Mayor Perry
D. Thompson.

The reason is that the state and
national governments are awarding
medals and buttons to the soldiers and
sailors and it is felt that a municipal
emblem at the present time would be superfluous. In many communities the
medals have been changed to watch
fobs, but the matter will be held in
abeyance locally, for the present at
least, according to the mayor.

The efforts of the board of trade in
this city to form a corporation to establish homes in this city and thus
relieve the housing situation find reflection in the efforts of the Worcester
chamber of commerce along the same
line, although the Worcester project
has found its fruition much more quickly than that in this city.

Secretary John J. O'Rourke of the Lowell board has received word that
the business men of Worcester have
formed a housing corporation with a capitalization of $200,000. It is planned
to have 50 houses ready for occupancy
in the fall. They will be of the three-apartment type, each apartment having
five or six rooms.

In Lowell a committee has worked
long and faithfully to put a similar
project through but to date, very little
of the capitalization has been received.
The Worcester success is cited as an example of what can be done in that line.

O. M. I. Cadets Pay Tribute to Departed Comrades at Impressive Service

Rarely has the annual military mass of the O.M.I. Cadets presented such a striking and impressive spectacle as did that of yesterday when 300 members of the organization and former members who had seen service in the world war united to pay solemn tribute to the 20 members who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war.

The ceremony was held at the Immaculate Conception church before a congregation that filled the edifice to capacity. Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., spiritual director of the O.M.I. Cadets, had general supervision, and the splendid success of the affair once more reflected his ability in O.M.I. Cadet affairs.

The church was draped with bunting of the national colors, intermingled with many American flags. Floral effects of red, white and blue on the white altars, set off by numerous incense burners, made the scene a most brilliant one.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the Cadets, headed by their own band and drum corps, marched to the church from their armory in High street with Col. Francis Tatis and Maj. William F. Conroy in the lead. The natly uniforms of blue and white contrasted with the more sombre uniforms of the war veterans in their service garb.

As the procession made its way down the central aisle, the church choir sang and three trumpeters played "O'ward Christian Soldiers," and when the soldiers had taken their positions, all sang one stanza of the hymn. Leading the service men were Capt. W. C. MacBrayne, Lieut. Joseph M. Reilly, Lieut. John Tully, Lieut. John Boland, Ensign Harold O'Brien and Ensign Edward Cummings.

Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O.M.I., pastor of the church, celebrated the mass, and preached the sermon. He emphasized the fact that true success can come to either military or spiritual soldier; only through obedience to position by Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I. During the mass 41 cadets served as altar boys, and also asked that other guard served with the colors.

Celebrate Passing of John Barleycorn
CHICAGO, June 30.—Many saloons and restaurants planned to keep open long after midnight, when war time prohibition goes into effect. They expect to sell large quantities of liquor to patrons up to midnight and allow them to remain as long as they desire to consume it.

Thousands of reservations have been made in hotels and restaurants for the celebration of the passing of liquor; and proprietors predicted a revel surpassing those of New Year's eve.

THE GILDAY GOWN SHOP

At that hour we shall throw open the doors of Lowell's most modern Gown Shop at

STRAND THEATRE BUILDING.

Tel. 805

Everybody is invited to the house-warming. We shall be open from 9 in the morning until 6 at night.

We shall be open for business as well as for inspection. If you come expecting to find an orchestra or some useless souvenir, you'll be disappointed. But if you come expecting to see the most beautiful women's wear shop, the most attractive outer apparel, the most moderate prices and the most courteous sales force, you'll find your expectations fully met—and possibly exceeded.

While it looks at this writing as if everything would be in complete readiness tomorrow morning, one seldom opens a new store but what they find that some of the hundred and one little details had been overlooked. We presume it will be the same here—especially since we have not only been hard pressed for time in trying to open on such short notice, but have met with many unforeseen difficulties in altering and equipping these quarters.

Therefore if aught should be found lacking here tomorrow, in merchandise, in equipment, or in service, we beg your kind indulgence until such time as we shall have "found ourselves" so to speak, for we aim to make the new Gilday Gown Shop a shop of "completeness" in every respect, especially with exclusiveness of stock and in service to our customers, with special emphasis on the courteous attention to which every person who visits this gown shop is entitled whether they come as looker or buyer.

Utility and efficiency without extravagance have been the watchwords in equipping the new Gilday Gown Shop. Yet you'll find the decorations are tasteful and pleasing; the fixtures and display facilities are new and designed for a perfect display of women's outer apparel—easy to see and get at, yet fully protected from dust, dirt and finger marks.

The lights, the color scheme, every appointed detail; all are in alluring harmony. More selling space has been added. A new and much larger stock of New Mid-Summer Fashions of the Gilday standard is now on exhibition. Every facility for quick, efficient service has been installed which will minister in every way to the comfort and convenience of our patrons.

But equipment and pleasing appearance are only side issues compared with the wonderfully wide variety of exclusive Gilday clothes you'll find displayed here. And because we keep our expenses at lowest ebb, you'll find that—on equal qualities—we quote lower prices than anyone else—anywhere—always.

So when you come to take your first look at this New Gilday Gown Shop, the most pleasing of all Lowell stores, don't let its striking appearance blind your eyes to the even more wonderful sight presented by my personally selected stocks offering wider varieties and greater values. The whole we are sure will afford a good clothes treat such as Lowell has never before been privileged to witness. It is our pride that we now possess a women's clothes shop without a superior. The old Gilday quality traditions will be faithfully maintained, and fair prices will always prevail.

Come see us tomorrow, or any other day that best suits your convenience. You'll be welcome—any time.

Yours for personal service,

Lawrence Motorman Exonerated

BOSTON, June 30.—A board of arbitration today reported that Daniel J. Cahill, a motorman for the Bay State Railway at Lawrence, whose suspension from duty precipitated a strike on parts of the system on May 27 and 28, was not guilty of the charges against him. Cahill was charged with having been intoxicated while in uniform and operating a car. The report of the board was not signed by the company's representative, Vice President Robert S. Goff.

18 U. S. Soldiers Killed in Siberia

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Eighteen American soldiers were killed, an officer and eight men severely wounded and 16 slightly wounded in engagement with anti-Bolshevik forces near Romanovka on June 25. Major General Graves, commanding the American expedition in Siberia, informed the war department today that the engagement followed an attack by the Bolsheviks on railroad guards.

U. S. Troops From Russia Arrive

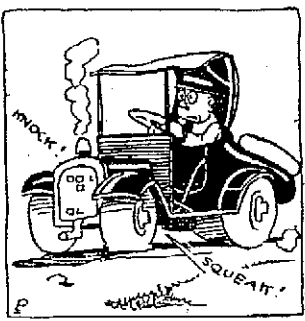

NEW YORK, June 30.—The transport Von Steuben arrived today at Brest with 2820 troops, including a large detachment of the 330th Infantry, 85th Division, which was recently withdrawn from Archangel. The Infanta Isabella brought 1730 troops from Bordeaux and La Laine from Havre and the yacht Aphro-lite brought casualties.

THE WEEKLY OVERHAUL

The weekly overhauling of the car seems like a tedious and useless task. But it means freedom from trouble in days to come when trouble will follow you "consanly," as Bert Williams used to say, if you neglect the little things now.

See that the grease cups are filled and turned down. Each has its little part in making the car last longer. A worn spring bolt, for lack of grease, may mean a broken spring some day. One point neglected on the steering assembly may mean a worn part and a wreck by the roadside as a result.

they grow into big ones filled with dirt and loosen rubber from fabric.

See that there is oil in the engine and water in the radiator. Of course this is more than a weekly rite. It is a first essential of caring for a car.

Notice if the fan belt is falling enough. A slipping belt a fan falling short of its full duty and a hot day combine to cause an overheated engine. And it's all unnecessary.

Tighten up the lugs. Lugs ever so loose may let a rim creep around and pull out a valve stem, making a good tube go bad. When the lugs get old and the rim creeps in spite of your effort, get new ones. You'll enjoy your ride more if you don't have to worry about creeping tires.

Now and then get under and see that spring clips are bolted tightly and that the bottom of the crank case has no loose nuts.

Be sure that the brakes are holding all right, and if they fall of their full duty, take up the slack.

Test the various points of the steering assembly for wear and tighten up loose joints.

Like bad teeth, an automobile neglected is piling up labor and trouble manifold for the future.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STAND

"The Lion's Den," adapted from the Saturday Evening Post story by Frederick Orin Bartlett, author of Bert Lytell's greatest success, "The Sponser," presents an idea of a powerful appeal taken from the efforts of a young clergyman to save the boys of his congregation from the evils of the street and pool rooms. It will be shown at The Strand for the first three days of the present week and is said to be one of the most entertaining film features of the season. See it.

He was a minister of the gospel, working in the slums. She was a young society butterfly, frivolous and vain, never thinking of the serious side of life and ignoring the love her husband gave her. "Playthings of Passion," the newest Kitty Gordon feature, describes the startling story with the above theme as a comedy and the latest Universal Weekly, will add to the worth of the bill. The pony contest is still on and getting more popular daily. Get the children interested, for the prize is worth the try. Think of it, a handsome live Shetland pony and cowboy riding outfit free in the most popular child. Coupons distributed with every purchase of an admission ticket.

WORK PROGRESSING ON HOSPITAL ADDITION

Work on the erection of the addition to St. John's hospital is progressing rapidly and it is expected that the new building will be ready for occupancy sometime in September. All the brick work as well as the plastering has been completed and the men are now busy putting in the terrazzo floors. The marble settings have been installed and it is expected that the carpenters will be ready for the finishing touch within a short time.

The new building is four stories high, was built of steel and brick and connects with the old building. It will be heated from the boiler plant in the laundry, where two large six-foot boilers were recently installed. The building is so constructed that the elevator in the old building will serve for both structures. The partitions of the new ell are of Egyptian blocks, while the walls in the corridors are of terra cotta. The stairways are also of terra cotta.

A tunnel has been laid out from the laundry building, connecting with the new building as well as the old structure, while it has also been extended in the rear across Stackpole street to the site, where probably next year will be erected a nurses' home. The building, when complete, will be one of the finest of its kind in this part of the country.

HELPING THE DRIVER

New era of shipping is promised in the launching at Oakland, Cal., of the 4600-ton tanker Palo Alto, large-berthed concrete vessel yet built. (Above), Mrs. R. J. Wig, wife of the shipping board engineer, who built the 426-foot "floating rock."

BOOZE HOLIDAY STARTS TONIGHT

Lowell's Bone Dry Era Begins at 11 p. m.—Feverish Buying Marks Final Day

Locations to be Retained for Present, Waiting Lifting of Ban, Local Dealers Say

Starting tonight at 11, John Barleycorn and his right bower, Robin Hop, as they function in Lowell, are to start on a prolonged vacation the length of which can be conjectured at only by the ability of the guesser to surmise when America's war time army will have been completely demobilized.

One of the most surprising things in connection with the temporary absence of King Booze from Lowell is this. Many people expect that tomorrow morning carpenters, workmen and movers will be seen starting in to remove all the fixtures and appointments of the mahogany palaces in Lowell where one could seek counsel of the learned Haig and Haig, learn geography by communing with one of Kentucky's greatest products and experimenting to find out if Blue River whiskey really is a "morning's mornin'" into which a headache does not enter.

This is on the supposition that liquor dealers, holding different kinds of licenses, with J. Barleycorn on fishing, would promptly surrender leases, remove saloon fixtures and set the stage for the "To Let" sign to be displayed in the shop window. This, however, seems not destined to be the case. After today we shall find that perhaps neat screens, in the windows of the saloons out of the gaze of the passerby from looking in towards where so much philosophy, wit, information and high priced booze, used to be dispensed, but this will be evidence the selling of joy juice has been suspended but not that the owner of the place has moved his

Many Lowell saloon men believe the business of selling liquor may legally be resumed again before October 1, and they are willing to hold on to their locations, pay the rent and wait for the future action of congress. In the case of the rum selling places delicately and fastidiously called "wine stores," it will be found that these merchants will have disposed of their wet goods and will be found selling food or candy or perhaps will temporarily turn their stores over to some friend who will wish to sell his line of merchandise in the place. Many of these "wine stores" occupy good "stands" and it is understood several deals are hanging fire that have such a change in contemplation.

It is a long time to older time in southern New Hampshire and suburban Lowell and many people will come to Lowell today to obtain that which is supposed to make the journey across the desert less fatiguing. Getting liquor from Massachusetts to New Hampshire across the state line is another question but the first question is of course to make the purchase in Massachusetts.

Thus it will be seen that it is going to be an exceedingly busy day for those who sell liquor and those who want to buy a supply to have on hand. Men and women from surrounding towns and cities are expected to pour into Lowell after working hours this afternoon. The law gives John Barleycorn and Robin Hop no extension of time in which to say goodbye today prior to starting on the vacation and at 11 p. m.—genuine time, mind you—the going will announce that the boat is ready for J. B. and his pal and the bars will be put up against the legalized sale of liquor until action repelling is taken by the federal government.

Official party in this country will ever take possession of a cause so sacred as this.

"I plead that it never may be the property of any group of men in America. It is too big, it is too sacred to be possessed and controlled by any political organization or any element in American life. It belongs to all America. America that loves, oh America that welcomed our ancestors here barefooted and naked with outstretched hands; America that lifted up the poor, forsaken Cuban; America that has taken the Filipino by the hand and is leading him to independence and to a government of his own; America, the only unselfish government in all the world; America, the only country to which our leader could come and know that he would receive the welcome from the people who were always sympathizing with the down-trodden and oppressed of all the world.

America's Voice

"Oh, let your plea be to the conscience of America. We know her; we love her. Unselfish Americans. Never asking anything in return for what she has done for humanity the world over. The only government at the peace table that asked no part of the possessions or properties of any other peoples. Oh, America is with you as well as welcomes you, and under the powerful influence of America we will send back in the not distant future that America's voice has spoken in unmistakable terms for your people. "It is a significant coincidence that when this great leader was seeking an outlet from his people and from the land over which they have called him to preside, when he was seeking equality and in a hidden way crossed the great Atlantic to come to America to ask your aid, to ask her influence—it is significant, I say, that during those days and hours of hardship as he sought to come to us, the greatest legislative body in all the world, by almost a unanimous vote—the United States senate—pledged its sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people.

"And I can say to you, Mr. President, I ask you when you return to your people on the other side of the Atlantic to say to them that they can rely and depend upon this fact that in Ireland's striving and determining her relationships with Great Britain or the other countries, the United States of America will never place an obstacle in the way of Irish independence.

"Tell your people, who say that the only argument against Irish independence is that of the right of a minority, tell them that in the days of '76 when America fought for independence, there was a minority here, and if minorities rights were to be paramount, the flag—the Stars and Stripes—would never float over the free republic here today. Tell them that on the day that Boston was evacuated the minority who stood with the English government against the colonists, the minority who opposed liberty and freedom, the minority who linked themselves with the Tories, sailed away from Boston harbor to the provinces of New Brunswick, away from the cause of liberty of the colonists.

Addressing President De Valera, he said:

"So in these words of welcome and of encouragement from those people who are so keenly and sincerely interested in you and your mission, I know I speak their thoughts and express their hearts when I say to you, each and every one of them here wish you Godspeed and pray the return in safety of you to your country and to hear of the unfolding future on the buildings of Dublin, the flag of the Irish republic, never to be hauled down as long as the earth revolves."

Next to De Valera himself, the greatest demonstration was accorded Secretary Boland, leader of the young forces of Ireland and an orator, a determined, clean-cut youth, who had a strategic part in the Easter week rebellion of 1916 and who escaped the British cordons to come to this country in advance of his chief, making his way across the Atlantic as a coal stoker in a passenger liner.

"We are here to plead the cause of Ireland," declared the youthful leader, member of the Irish parliament from South Roscommon. "We did not come to interfere in American politics but to urge you in this land of the cradle of liberty not to sign a document that will mean perpetual slavery for our country."

The government of the Irish republic is the only government which has the consent of the governed in Ireland, he explained, and De Valera, the president of that government, elected by ballot, by majority vote, is, he declared, as truly president, speaking democratically, as President Wilson is president of this nation. "In the teeth of bayonets," De Valera was elected to the highest office in Ireland, he said. "Washington was an anarchist in his day; Washington was all that was evil in England, just as our president is the worst evil in the British empire today, yet Washington won, was a successful rebel and today is proclaimed the father of his country."

Ireland's help in the American revolution and in the cause of the Union at the time of the Civil war was recited by the Sinn Fein secretary amid the plaudits of his audience. The statement of the London Times, that "an Irishman soon will be as rare in Ireland as a red Indian on the shores of Manhattan," he answered by declaring that "the Irishman took his vengeance with him to this country, and Britain will feel it here and now."

The whole land is garrisoned heavily, a state of siege exists, he declared. The press is muzzled, and free speech and the right of public gathering is denied.

For singing an Irish song, "Fellows of Our Land," written 60 years ago and sung by peoples all over the world, men and women are sentenced to two years' penal servitude, he remarked, under the defence of the realm act.

For the sale of flags, and for assembling in public meeting, women and young girls are arrested in large numbers. In court they refuse to plead, denying the right of British rule and tribunals. They are fined, yet refuse to pay, preferring English dungeons to recognition of British law.

"We are killing English government in Ireland with ridicule," exclaimed Boland, "Britain is the laughing-stock of Europe."

He scouted the argument of Britishmen that the Irishmen are forever "living in the past," or that they cannot unite.

Major Kincaid of New Jersey made a strong speech in support of the Irish appeal for independence and predicted

Resolutions Adopted

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted at yesterday's meeting at Fenway park: Resolved, That we return thanks to the United States senate and sympathetic American patriots and the American action in instructing the delegates at Paris to representatives to Ireland, through its peace conference, that her case may be heard. Resolved, That we declare ourselves unreservedly in favor of the independence of Ireland and demand that our government recognize the Irish republic. Resolved, That we register our opposition to any proposed League of Nations which does not protect all American rights and interests and which binds us to guarantee the territorial integrity of the British and Japanese empires.

Gov. Coolidge's Sympathy

The following is a copy of the letter received from Gov. Coolidge in Fenway Park meeting Sunday, June 29: "Dear Mr. Fitzgerald, Boston, Mass.: "Being out of town and unable to be present at Fenway Park to assist in the welcome to the Honorable Mr. De Valera, I am sending you this letter to state that the fundamental American doctrine, as breathed in the prayer of Abraham Lincoln, is: 'That all men everywhere may be free.'"

"I believe it the duty of Americans peacefully and with order, lawfully and in the observance of the comity that exists between nations, always to advocate such freedom, remembering the help that came to our own country from many nationalities during the revolution and the sympathy which was no less desirable exhibited toward us during the war between the states. "It is especially fitting that we should require such help and sympathy by a similar attitude on our part toward the races which have supported us in the past. Mr. De Valera comes here as Kossuth and others have come. He will find the same ardent love for freedom which the desire of freedom loving men have produced in the past, and especially a desire to provide for the freedom of his race and land. "Yours very truly,"

"CALVIN COOLIDGE."

Continued

ment of the future status of Turkey must be made, but for some days, it is expected, the peace making machinery will be operating only through commissions which are studying different phases of the problems before the allies and preparing reports upon the conference. President Wilson is on his way to America.

Lloyd George in England

Premier Lloyd George is in England and many of the other leading figures of the peace conference have left Paris temporarily. Of the American delegation only Secretary Lansing and General Tasker H. Bliss are in Paris. The principal German delegates will leave Versailles today for Germany.

Those Responsible for War

Within the next 30 days the allies will submit to the German government a list of persons who are charged with responsibility for causing the war, or who are alleged to have violated the rules of civilized warfare. In this connection Dr. Theobald von Bethmann-Holweg, who held the office of imperial German chancellor in 1914, when the allies to place him on trial instead of former Emperor William. The former chancellor assumes full and complete responsibility for the acts of Germany during his incumbency, even bearing the blame for the political acts of the former emperor.

Little News From Germany

Since the signing of the treaty, little has come out of Germany to indicate the frame of mind of the German people generally, nor have the disorders which seemed very serious during the past three weeks assumed a more threatening aspect. The railroad strike which last week paralyzed traffic in Berlin and is about to spread throughout the try, has been settled. Government troops sent to restore order in burg have withdrawn and left in control of the provisional government established by the radicals.

SUMMER ADVERTISING

Summer shopping ought to be at its height now because the weather is seasonably hot and vacations have started. All kinds of people starting on vacations, invariably, means that summer clothing and other things used on vacations are to be bought and in these lines at least the vacation season has really come to be regarded as a trade stimulator.

The live merchant will undoubtedly do well to make a play directly to this situation as it exists. Summer buying—vacation shopping—is a phase of merchandising that involves a good prospect of profit; but it is something that must have a certain amount of publicity by way of advertising, attached to it to have it recognized by the public.

No need to let down on department or any other store advertising in summer. One reason is because it offers the best weather of all the year to do shopping. To get your share of this mid-summer trade you need to reach as many people as possible, which means having your ad. in

More than 5000 American soldiers are bringing home French wives. Judging from the greetings lavished upon the American boys by the French and particularly the French girls, it is not strange that the lads have been smitten. Everybody wishes them good luck. The war brides will come to live in this western republic and help to make it more cosmopolitan. But another large number of war brides have come here from England and they, too, will help remove our provincialism. These combinations should help in promoting a staunch Americanism that will never show any Bolshevik tendencies.

TEN CENT CARFARE

The decision of the Eastern Massachusetts Railway company to put a 10 cent fare in effect tomorrow, will be a surprise to the people of Lowell. The trustees feel that they cannot continue to operate the system on a seven cent fare, as the deficit for the past month has been approximately $300,000.

It is the intention of the trustees to find just how much it costs to operate each of the 12 divisions of the system and then fix the fare accordingly, so as to offer service post. They feel that there may be a reduction in fare from the 10 cent figure after a reasonable examination.

With a 10 cent fare during the summer months, it would seem that the company should make more money than ever before. The change, however, will not be popular with the public and for this reason many people will use the cars less than formerly, while others will resort to the jitneys. The high fare on street trolleys is a double edged sword, in a great many cases, has defeated its purpose. Whether that will be the result in the present instance remains to be seen after a trial.

BOMBING THREATS

Thomas J. Mooney from his cell in California, sends out warning to his friends all over the country not to expect any bombing on July 4 on his account. He says it would hurt his friends rather than help it. Mooney is a good judgment and if the government contemplated anything in line on Independence day, they better drop it. The government will reach these desperadoes and drive them out of the country or terminate their miserable existence.

It is now alleged that Bolshevik propaganda is being used to create a feeling of terror in this country so the real freedom enjoyed under our constitution will not be allowed to be strangled by what is called the "reds" and which is but the most despicable form of brigandage.

Attorney General Garfield for an appropriation of $10,000 to check the bomb makers. At the Bolsheviks of Russia are paying $2,000,000 per month to promote bombing outrages, but to destroy law and order as well as in Russia so they can loot banks, rob individuals and seize property same as a thief. The thing is too ridiculous to be credible; but seen the evidence of it. It stamped out, if to accomplish its end costs $2,000,000 or more.

ONY OF FATE

Two rival republican organizations are fighting for control of the city of Lowell. The fifth ward is a hotbed of strife. There is a hot-tempered leader who Carey, and the Vore leader, Ike Deutsch.

A few days before the primary election, the Deutsch gang imported gunmen from New York and there was shooting, blackjacking and violence such as shocked not only the city and the state, but the nation.

In an attack upon the Carey headquarters Eppey, a policeman, was mortally wounded.

Various of the gunmen now are in prison. Deutsch was tried and convicted, but the verdict was overturned.

The other day, Deutsch was sitting in front of his home in the fifth ward with his wife and child by his side. A dog, a pet of his child, was attracted by something and started to run off. The child cried in alarm and Deutsch arose and went in pursuit of the dog.

He had gone but a short distance when he gasped, put his hand to his heart and sank to the pavement. An ambulance was summoned and he was taken to hospital, where he died without recovering consciousness.

Then it was discovered that the ambulance was the same one in which Eppey was taken to the hospital, was driven by the same person and the same inferno sat on the seat in the rear.

Also that Deutsch by chance was placed on the same bed in the hospital in which Eppey died, and was attended by the same nurse and the same surgeon.

And that, so far as can be calculated, there was practically no variation in the hour between the wounding of Eppey and his death and the collapse of Deutsch and the ending of his life.

Rather a rare chain of coincidences as if ruled by the hand of Fate.

BOLSHEVIST "FREEDOM"

The following decree, issued by Zinoviev and published in the Bolshevik organ, the Northern Commune of Sept. 13, 1918, shows the conditions under which meetings may be held:

1. All societies, unions and associations—political, economic, artistic, religious, etc.—formed on the territory of the Union of the Commune of the Northern Region must be registered at the corresponding soviet or committees of the village poor.
2. The constitution of the union or society, a list of founders and members of the committee, with names and addresses, and a list of all members, with their names and addresses, must be submitted at registration.
3. All books, minutes, etc., must always be kept at the disposal of representatives of the soviet power for purposes of revision.
4. Three days' notice must be given to the soviet, or to the committee of the village poor, of all public and private meetings.
5. All meetings must be open to the representatives of the soviet power, viz: the representatives of the central and district soviet, the committee of the poor and the commander of the revolutionary police force.
6. Unions and societies which do not comply with these regulations will be regarded as counter-revolutionary organizations and prosecuted.

Reading this decree in connection with the declaration of Lenin, it is easy to see why there are no public meetings of protest against the Bolshevik rule. This decree reminds those who knew Russia in the past of the suppression of free speech under the czar; but it is in reality more sweeping than anything of the kind promulgated by the czar.

Every bit of real information regarding what is going on in Russia shows that Bolshevism has resulted in less freedom, instead of more freedom, except for the Bolshevik leaders and their mercenary army. In view of the cry of the Bolsheviks in America for "free speech," the situation in Russia is all the more startling.

In "A Letter to American Workmen" by Lenin, published in the Liberator of January, 1919, Lenin makes the following statements:

"While the old bourgeois and democratic constitutions, for instance, proclaimed formal equality and the right of free assembly, the constitution of the soviet repudiates the hypocrisy of a formal equality of all human beings. Since we here are concerned with the task of overthrowing the bourgeoisie, only fools or traitors will insist on the formal equality of the bourgeoisie. Our soviet have taken over all usable buildings in the cities and towns out of the hands of the rich and have placed them at the disposal of the workmen and peasants for meeting and organization purposes."

In an article in the Bolshevik organ, Pravda, republished in the Liberator of September and October, 1918, Lenin said:

"The nearer we get to the complete military suppression of the bourgeoisie the more dangerous become for us the petty bourgeois anarchic inclinations. And these inclinations cannot be combated merely by propaganda and agitation, by the organization of emulation, by the selection of organizers; they must be combated by compulsion."

Light is shed upon the results of this decree by a quotation from Pravda of August 6, 1918. A passage reads:

"KAZAN, Aug. 4th.—The provisional congress of the soviets of the peasants has been dissolved because of the absence from it of poor peasants and because its state of mind is obviously counter-revolutionary."

If a soviet congress is dissolved because it does not agree with the Bolshevik rulers, what chance would an ordinary meeting stand?

Evidently, "freedom of speech" in Russia means freedom to praise Lenin and his associates, merely that and nothing more.

Congressman Fitzgerald says the Boston chamber of commerce is not doing much to help Boston. We have remarked in reference to the operations of that important organization, that it wastes a vast amount of valuable time and labor conducting referenda for the purpose of reaching decisions on questions that any intelligent business man would decide more efficaciously in ten minutes than would the thousands of members in ten days.

Many Boston hotels advertise that the wake for John Barleycorn will be rather festively celebrated this evening in their dining rooms, and for the time being at any rate, it need not be regarded as a lodge of sorrow. We failed to notice any part of the ad relating to free drinks on the house, but there is nothing like starting for a wake like that full of hope.

Do you know of a patriotic Irish father somewhere who is in a quandary as to what his new son shall be named? Why not suggest the name of Eamonn? Rather of a good distinction to have been named for the first president of the Irish republic!

It is another indication of America's progress as a world power and leader in world transportation when we read that last Wednesday a liner named Lake Grandby steamed away from Chicago en route for Liverpool, the first ship to make this commercial trip.

Kansas is starting on the job of harvesting 225,000,000 bushels of wheat valued at $150,000,000. The grain in the berry looks like a field of gold and later it is converted into a barrel of gold, the cost of which is to come from the pockets of the consumers.

At last, a court decision has been made in which both interested parties claim the result satisfies them. We refer to the New York decision affecting the "wets" and the "drys."

The treaty has been signed. Now the international composers may proceed to set it to words and music. And may the theme be one of perpetual peace.

How was it you took stock in the report that the former crown prince had escaped from Holland? Did you not recall that he had pledged his word as a German prince not to try to escape?

The First Motor Van
An ancient motor van usually managed to have a breakdown about once a week and generally at a most inopportune moment in the thick of the traffic. One day after slowly snorting its way right into the middle of the traffic there was a sudden whirling of wheels, a loud snap and the weary and worn framework came to a dead stop.

"Look here," said the policeman on duty to the driver, "this infernal thing is always breaking down. Let's see; what's your number? Yes, 1593."

"Garrat" came from the youth who was in charge of the vehicle immediately behind. "That ain't its number; that's the year it was built!"—Rehoboth, Sunday Herald.

Typographical Error

William Howard Taft, in addressing a class of would-be editors at Yale, was trying to impress upon them the importance of accuracy and the unfairness of misquoting public men.

"Sometimes," he said, "a slight error may have momentous consequences. A friend of mine went into a restaurant and ordered noodle soup. In the very first spoonful he discovered a needle."

"George," he cried to the waiter, "come here. See what I found in the soup! A needle."

"George examined the needle critically and grinned."

"That's all right, son, just a little mistake, son; just a mere typographical error, a typographical error. Dat needle should have been a noodle, son!"

His Useless Whiff

One day a barber shop had but one empty chair. A man wearing a very big hat and talking with a great deal of swagger, entered, hung his hat on a peg, and then drawing a revolver he turned to the idle man and said:

"I want a shave—just a common shave. I want no talk. Don't ask me if I want a haircut or a shampoo. Don't speak of weather or politics. If you speak to me I'll shoot."

He took the chair, held the revolver across his legs, and was shaved with promptness and dispatch. When he got up he returned the shooter to his hip pocket, put on his hat, and after a broad chuckle he said to the cashier:

"That's the way to keep a barber quiet. He didn't utter a word."

"Couldn't?"

"No, sir; he's deaf and dumb."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Miracles

Do I believe in the miracle sign? As wrought by the ancient prophet? The miracle water turned to wine? That the wedding-guest must quaff it?

Miracled fishes and loaves of bread, And Lazarus miracled back from the dead. Or any miracle heard or read? Well, pray you, why should I scoff it?

For I look up through my miracled eyes To the miracle skies above me. Then I look at you and I realize A miracle for and of me. Something has turned my blood to wine. Something has laid your lips on mine. Greatest of miracles! This its sign, That you are alive and love me!—Edmund Vance Cooke. (Copyright, 1919, N.E.A.)

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

I have heard considerable talk among the kiddies this year regarding the fireworks, which are being offered for sale. They say the sparklers, which have been their delight for years, do not burn as long as they did formerly and that the explosives are much louder than any they ever had before. It is probable that some of the high grade powder which was being manufactured for munitions in the war has something to do with the loudness of the explosives. As for the sparklers, nothing, not even money, goes as far as it formerly did.

Our national government, abruptly economical, now that the peace treaty has been signed, has, through the national railroad administration, ordered work stopped on the new roundhouse at Middlesex Village. We might feel disposed to be somewhat peeved over this but we can have this consolation: This roundhouse is now about 71 per cent finished. The national railway administrator, Walter D. Hines, will not probably let a building lacking only 30 per cent of completion, lie idle very long waiting for the comparatively inexpensive finishing touches to be put on. From a mechanical and railroads' standpoint, the new roundhouse is a beauty and it ought to be finished and put in use as quickly as possible. There are other things the government can more efficiently economize on than on this Middlesex Village roundhouse. The government will doubtless be reimbursed for what it expends in this way.

Now that the local fruit dealers are beginning to get in their annual supply of watermelons for the summer season, it will be well for them to bear in mind that the board of health does not allow such melons to be cut open and exposed on fruit stands. I was talking with a member of the board the other day and in the course of our conversation he happened to look across the street and spied a large melon cut in quarters and exposed to whatever germs a dusty and much traveled city street might contain. The owner of the store was immediately notified of his violation of regulations and promptly got the fruit under cover. The board believes that it is an unsanitary practice to have the melons exposed in this way and not wholly necessary to their speedy sale. Other fruit dealers will do well to take a hint from this experience.

It is estimated that at least 1000 Lowell people were present at Fenway park, Boston, yesterday afternoon, to help receive Eamonn de Valera, provisional president of the Irish republic. The Lowell delegation was representative of the city's various Irish societies and even in the musical phase of the day's program Lowell was represented by the Irish Volunteer band. This organization led the Wolfe Tone, Sheridan and Meagher Guards, who presented an excellent appearance. These latter organizations attempted to form part of a guard of honor as Mr. de Valera entered the park, but the eagerness of the crowd to get close to the guest of the occasion made their efforts practically futile.

LOWELL SINGERS AT SALISBURY BEACH

There was singing galore at Salisbury beach yesterday, the occasion being an outing under the auspices of St. Joseph's church choir. The affair took the place of the annual banquet and proved most enjoyable. In order to give the singers an opportunity to spend the day at the beach the clergy of the parish celebrated a low mass instead of the parish mass at 10.30 o'clock and there were no vesper services in the afternoon.

The excursionists, men and women, attended the 7.30 o'clock mass at St. Joseph's and at the close of the services boarded automobiles and enjoyed a ride to Salisbury. Upon reaching the seashore headquarters were installed at Hotel Kelley and a varied musical program was given during the remaining hours of the forenoon, much to the delight of the guests at the hotel and nearby campers. At 1 o'clock a most appetizing seafood dinner was served at the Kelley restaurant and the repast was followed by more music.

The afternoon was devoted to sporting events, while some of the singers enjoyed a dip. Games were played and before leaving a light luncheon was served. The return trip was most enjoyable and all were unanimous in saying the affair was the best ever. The arrangements for the event were in charge of the choir director, Telesphore Maio, who wishes to extend his heartfelt thanks to the following who supplied gratis the automobiles for the trip: Dr. A. J. Gagnon, Z. A. Normandin, Stephen Rochette, Edmond Lambert, Joseph Dosse, Alphonse Lemieux and Arthur G. Leveille.

CITY EMPLOYEES HOLD OUTING

Employees of various municipal departments enjoyed an outing arranged by the city teamsters at Willow Dale yesterday. Special cars left Merrimack square in the morning and the return trip was not made until the early evening. The usual picnic program was carried out and at noon luncheon was served. Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy of the street department addressed those present in the afternoon and other members of the city council also made their appearance.

PIANO RECITAL

It was a very appreciative audience that attended the annual piano recital by the pupils of the Guilbault academy of pianoforte, which was held last evening in Colonial hall in Middle street. The musicians were assisted by Miss Clemence Simard, soprano; Mr. Lucien Tetreault, tenor and Mr. William Bloudeau, violinist. Each number was given with precision and ease and the excellent work accomplished by the pupils reflected great credit not only upon the pupils themselves but also the director of the academy, Louis Napoleon Guilbault, organist at St. Jean Baptiste church and his assistant, Miss Alice Richard. The evening's program was presided over by Rev. Bishop de Silva, pastor of St. Anthony's church. Miss Clemence Simard highly entertained with two of her favorite selections, "Parla" by Ardit and "Stances" by Flegier. Miss Simard is an accomplished soprano and her singing is always highly appreciated by the lovers of good music. She has made her mark before. Another very pleasing number was the singing by Mr. Lucien Tetreault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edouard Tetreault of 30 Allen street, who, although but 15 years of age, has demonstrated that he

DRESSMAKER SAVED FROM OPERATION

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Time.

Ithaca, N.Y.—"Three years ago I suffered from pains in my right side, so severe that I could not raise my feet from the floor. Pains would shoot down my limbs and through my back, and the doctor said I had an abscess. I was in bed two weeks with an icebag on my side and expected any day that I might have to go to a hospital for an operation. A friend came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it, and after taking six bottles I feel well and strong, do my own work and dressmaking for others. I cannot speak too highly of your medicine and recommend it to others who suffer with female trouble. It is a Godsend to ailing women, and you may use my name at any time."—Mrs. FERRILLA HOLZSIECK, 218 E. Fall St., Ithaca, N.Y.

MAIL FOR SWEDEN BY PARCEL POST

Articles of merchandise will now be received at the Lowell postoffice for mailing to Sweden by parcel post without the need of obtaining a special export license, as has been the case in the past, according to an announcement of the war trade board received by Postmaster Mochan today.

This announcement states that Sweden has been added to the list of European countries to which an export license is applicable and opens up the parcel post system between this country and Sweden for practically all articles under 11 pounds in weight. The adding of Sweden to the list has been expected for some time and has been the object of many inquiries by Swedish speaking people of Lowell, who have been put to some inconvenience by the system existing in the past.

BLACK ELECTED HEAD OF MOVIE PICTURE LEAGUE

Hundreds of Lowell people will be interested in the announcement made by the Associated Press Saturday of the election of Alfred S. Black as president of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of America at the annual convention of that organization in St. Louis.

Local interest in the announcement results from the fact that Mr. Black is owner of the Merrimack Square theatre of this city, and has hundreds of friends here, made through his business associations.

Mr. Black's new position is the highest gift which the movie men of the country can give to one of their fellow exhibitors and is the position which brings the exhibitors in contact with the government and the general public.

plays under Mr. Black's direction, the latter was in this city continuously supervising the project and became acquainted with hundreds of professional men. Since then he has frequently made visits here and has kept in constant touch with the friends he made upon his entry into the local theatrical field.

Mr. Black is president of a chain of theatres known as the Maine Theatres, Inc., extending from Maine to New York and including houses in Rockland, Me., Bath, Me., Westbrook, Me., Saco, Me., Manchester, N. H., Utica, N. Y. and this city.

Last year Mr. Black was a member of the committee of national exhibitors chosen to appear before the ways and means committee of the national house to plead against a 15-cent tax on every reel of film used every day. Through the efforts of the committee the tax was reduced to 10 and thus an inevitable blow at the general public in the form of increased admission prices averted.

The Exhibitors' league was organized to promote the welfare of the motion picture industry and its influence in bringing about a higher and cleaner standard of plays has already been felt. Mr. Black's home is in Rockland, Me.

ON ENFORCEMENT OF PROHIBITION

COLUMBUS, O., June 30.—Wayne B. Wheeler, secretary of the National Anti-Saloon league, said today that wartime prohibition could be fairly well enforced even before the new code was enacted.

"There is a penalty in the original war prohibition act of $1000 or one year's imprisonment for selling beer or wine," he said. "It is the duty of the United States district attorneys to enforce this law."

"If liquor dealers think there is no law, they will wake up in jail. The courts will determine what kind of beer comes under the prohibition."

"The fact that in New York a judge thinks 3.2 per cent beer is non-intoxicating is not binding on the nation."

A NEAR HOLDUP

Three drunks tried to hold up another drunk behind the Mann school on Broadway early Sunday morning, but before the trio had achieved any success Patrolman William Keegan dropped in on the party, with the result that the trio took to their heels. One of the men ran down Fletcher street, but was unable to outdistance Keegan, and was sent in to the station on a drunkenness charge.

The police were unable to locate the complainant in the case and the man was released by the probation officer yesterday. It is said that two shots were fired during the affair, but whether the bullets came from Keegan's gun or were fired by one of the alleged hold-up men could not be learned.

SIGN FRANCO-AMERICAN ALLIANCE AGREEMENT

PARIS, June 30.—The Franco-American convention was signed Saturday on behalf of the two governments, according to the newspapers. It is said that the covenant includes several articles and specifies that violation of the peace treaty by Germany will give France the right to request American and British assistance.

The Journal says that the coincidence in the signing of the convention and the peace treaty on the same day is part of the spirit of union among the associated states to see that the treaty is carried out.

The newspapers generally urge the French people to begin at once the work of economic reconstruction.

PARIS, June 30 (Havas).—The first public announcement of the text of the text of the defensive pact between France, Great Britain and the United States will be made in the Chamber of Deputies, the Rehe de Paris says. The document, according to this paper, contains clauses intended to justify it before British and American public opinion.

The task of the allied and associated powers is not ended with the signing of the treaty and the nations must continue to be united in order to see that the clauses of the treaty are carried out, President Poincare declares in an interview in the Paris edition of the London Daily Mail.

It will make some years for France to regain her normal mode of life and what France needs most at present is ships, he says, because only an increase in imports can bring about a decrease in the present high prices of raw material and the necessities of life. In principle, he adds, the allies are agreed on this point and the people of France hope that the other nations will aid them in restoring their country, which suffered more from the war.

COMMENT ON PEACE

LONDON, June 30.—Relief, gratification and hope for a speedy readjustment of the world are voiced in newspaper editorials on the signing of the treaty of peace.

Several newspapers mingle thanksgiving with warnings that there must be no relaxing of effort to make the League of Nations effective.

The Daily News mentions apprehension regarding Japan and the far east and denounces elements "on both sides of the Atlantic" which, it asserts, "are trying to stir up discord between England and America."

The Telegraph appears to fear nothing in this direction, saying:

RED SOX WIN SUNDAY
GAME FROM YANKS

The Boston Red Sox finally chased the Mogridge jinx yesterday when they defeated the Yankees on the Polo grounds, 5 to 3 by skillfully bunting hits. Jones was master of the situation for eight innings, but was given a scare in the ninth when New York rallied and scored three times before the side could be retired. The hitting of the Red Sox was the better of the two in a battle of pitchers yesterday. Washington winning 12 to 3, straight game from Philadelphia, 1 to 0. Foster's triple over Strunk's head and Rice's infield hit in the first inning scored the only run of the game. Howard Ehmke held Cleveland to one hit and no runs yesterday. Detroit winning easily, 10 to 0. The Tigers bunched five of their seven hits in the fourth. St. Louis made it three out of four from Chicago by winning the last game of the series, 5 to 3. The Browns used three pitchers and the White Sox two.

NEW WORLD'S SERIES
PLAN FAVORED

NEW YORK, June 30.—The club owners and players of the two major leagues are considering a new plan for the division of the world's series receipts in the fall, and it is expected that the national commission will adopt the new plan soon. Last year's plan of permitting the first four clubs of each league to share in the receipts was only an experiment, and although favored by several national league club owners, it is likely to be abandoned. It was the idea of John K. Tener, president of the national league, to give this plan a one-year trial. As it did not prove satisfactory the national league has now decided to revert to the old conditions governing the series, that the entire sum available for the players go to the members of the two clubs competing in the classic. The national league favors a curtailment of the share for the members of the competing clubs, so the result probably will be a compromise. The plan, which is likely to meet the approval of the club owners and players of both leagues, provides that the players' pool, consisting of about 60 per cent of the receipts of the first game, will be split so that 75 per cent of this pool shall go to the players of the two competing clubs, while the remaining 25 per cent will go to the officials. The plan also provides that the receipts of the world's series this fall promise to be larger than ever before in the history of baseball. The officials of both leagues favor a curtailment of the amount which should go to the members of the competing clubs. The price of the tickets was cut last fall to meet war conditions, but the national commission has already decided to re-establish the scale of prices which governed the big series. Under the new plan the officials figure the members of the winning club will receive close to $3000 each, while the members of the losing club will get in the neighborhood of $2000.

SIX PITCHERS FAIL TO STOP ST. LOUIS

Cincinnati used six pitchers yesterday in fruitless efforts to plug the overflow of Cardinal base hits, but St. Louis, treated to all the time and well out by the score of 14 to 9. Doak was knocked out of the box in the first inning and Sherdel was batted hard, but pitched and fielding gave Pittsburgh a 7 to 4 victory over Chicago. Brooklyn made it three straight from Philadelphia yesterday by winning a heavy hitting game, 9 to 4. Konechny led at the bat with five hits in a row, making eight in his last eight times at bat.

PLENTY OF BOXING FOR FANS THIS WEEK

With the Jess Willard-Jack Dempsey championship bout overshadowing all other sporting events, the present week is the biggest of the year from a boxing standpoint and Lowell will draw her share of the plums. Irrespective of how Harry Carlson of Brockton comes out against Young Benny Valger at the Crescent A.C. here on the afternoon of the Fourth.

Other bouts scheduled for July 4 throughout the country are: Mike Gibbons vs. Ed Smith and Johnny Dundee vs. Harvey Thorpe, Kansas City; Sam Langford vs. Harry Wells, St. Louis; Joe Lynch vs. Charlie Beecher, Jersey City; Soldier Braddock vs. Battling Ortega, Butte; Pete Hartley vs. Red Doland, New Orleans; Jack Britton vs. Johnny Griffiths, Canton, Ohio; Battling Jack Johnson vs. Bat McCreary, Waterville; Harry Greb vs. K. O. Brennan, Tulsa; Matt Brock vs. O. G. Cheney, Baltimore; Eddie Ford vs. Butch Miller, Philadelphia; and Rewanda vs. Ed. Wimmer, Philadelphia and J. McCarron vs. Frank Carbone, Trenton.

TEACHING BASEBALL
TO THE GERMANS

Now that the summer is really with us, and young men's fancies are engrossed in thoughts of big league baseball, instead of the gentle art of man-killing, which was somewhat in vogue about a year ago, it is only natural that the American lads in Germany are teaching the German boys of baseball around German lots, these days.

When the 10th Field Artillery moved up in Krut, Knight of Cologne, retired, David Henneperry of Joliet, Ill., hiked along with it, and brought along a wagonload of baseball bats, gloves, mitts and all the other paraphernalia of America's most popular game. And so every day the amazed people of Krut see a strange formation of nine men on a diamond, hurling a ball with terrific speed in the direction of another; a man bawling a thrown ball with strange fervor to miss it, and all the other signs of baseball that astound the unacquainted.

Secretary Henneperry says the German now like the game and even miss a contest. "It will help them to become a genuine republic," he says.

CARLSON AND VALGER
TO MEET HERE

Harry Carlson of Brockton, who lost a questionable decision to Benny Valger at Boston a few months ago and who has been trying ever since to get a return engagement, has been matched by Matchmaker Moore to meet the French "Flash" at the Crescent A. A. on the afternoon of July 4th. Carlson is a rugged, aggressive brawler, and accounts of his previous bout with Valger, agree that he gave his opponent a hard battle from going to going. Several of the Boston writers claimed that the Brockton boy was entitled to the decision. He was disappointed at the result, and has been demanding another chance since that time. He is slated over the prospect of again meeting Valger and avers that he will win. Young Drew of Lawrence and Mike Castle, also of Lawrence, two great rivals, will meet in the semi-final of eight rounds. In the preliminaries, Danny Conley of Lowell will meet Young Donovan of Cambridge and Harry Loring of Charlestown will tackle Young Gossie of Lawrence. The bouts will go on at 4 p. m. and between the rounds, the returns from the Willard-Dempsey bout will be given.

RECOVER $42,000.
STOLEN FROM MINE

BENTON, Ill., June 30.—The $42,000 taken by bandits who held up the Middle Fork mine here last Friday, has been recovered in a creek half way between here and West Frankfort. It was in a heavy waterproof canvas sack. Not a cent was missing. During the holdup three employees of the mine were wounded and one of the bandits escaped. The others were captured.

LOWELL LOST TWO GAMES TO LEWISTON

Lowell dropped both games of the double header at Spaulding park Saturday afternoon to Fred Parent's Lewiston team, with the largest crowd of persons looking on. The first game resulted in a 6 to 3 score while the second engagement terminated with the home side winning 12 to 3. The electrified batter, gets credit for winning both games. He pitched the entire nine innings in the opening contest and went to the rescue of Pitcher Sullivan in the fourth, and held the Lowell batters in check for the remainder of the distance.

FIRST GAME

Lowell got the jump in the first part of the win and looked good until the sixth. Tuckey, a new twirler, was working well for the Hayden crew and things looked bright. But Lewiston came through with some timely hitting and good base running and tied the count. In the eighth the visitors took the lead, by sending over a run, and to make victory certain added two in the ninth. Pich was in fine form and Lowell failed to score after the fifth.

Tuckey pitched a splendid game and deserved to win. But his support was away off color, and in the final analysis, the victory proved the decided factor in the game. Both teams were attired in the batting togs, and some good solid hitting was turned in by both sides. Lewiston's catcher, Leon Duncan, got three, one a two-bagger. Bossie took the hitting honors for Lowell.

SECOND GAME

Weird fielding by Lowell and heavy and timely hitting by Lewiston, with good pitching by Pich, proved too formidable a combination for Lowell to overcome in the second contest and Lewiston lucked the old game away by the tune of 12 to 3.

Three home runs, two by Lewiston and one by Lowell, came in this session and in all 31 hits were piled up. Fans who enjoy a free hitting game certainly got their money's worth in this set. Pitcher Sullivan started for Lewiston, but he was derelict at the beginning of the fourth, allowing Pich to come in and score his second victory of the day. Pierotti started for Lowell, but he was sent to the showers in the fourth and Clark went in. The latter failed to hold the enemy in check and he was relieved by Scanlon in the ninth.

Like in the first contest, Lowell was first to score, but the lead was short-lived for Lewiston came through in the third with three, and duplicated the stunt in the fourth, taking the lead to have and to hold for the remainder of the game.

Parent's fielding and hitting were of the big league order. He collected three hits, a home run, a triple and a single, and he pitched a splendid game. Kincaid who hit well in the first, also got three, while Bossie, who showed the way in Lowell hitters in the opening game, collected out three batters in the second contest. A running catch of a high foul fly, by Catcher Sullivan, was the fielding feature of the day. He dashed right backward to the grandstand to get the ball, and the pilled in his glove only to bounce out.

FACTORY WHISTLE SUCCEEDS SCHOOL BELL IN CALLING THEM TO PLAY

BY FRED TURBYVILLE

GARY, Ind., June 28.—It used to be sports were only for the school-boys, and rich men who elected to play a few years after they'd quit college. But now it's for all.

On July Fourth, 300 or 400 well trained and athletic young men will stage a meet on Glendon field in this city for championship honors of the American Industrial Athletic Association.

Such stars as John Ray and Jimmy Fitzgerald, famed runners, will participate. It is believed 25,000 workers will be in the stands to watch the biggest athletic contest of the year in America.

Johnny Lodwick, national representative of the new athletic league, has succeeded in lining up teams from some of the largest industries in America. Each of these teams is coached by a competent man, generally a man who has deserved college sports for the more productive industrial field.

The industrial league is growing by leaps and bounds. In another year it probably will take in a majority of the big plants in the country.

All of the big rubber plants in Akron, O., are members. The Packard auto company of Detroit and the Willys-Overland of Toledo are enthusiasts. The steel companies of Gary and Pittsburg, the Westinghouse Electric and the Ingersoll-Rand company are in.

In Indiana ten interurban cities have formed an interurban industrial athletic league.

Entries which have been pouring into Lodwick's hands indicate that the Fourth of July meet will run second only to the Willard-Dempsey fight.

The meet will be staged on a field costing a quarter of a million dollars. Martin Delaney of the Chicago Athletic club will referee; Walter Eckersall, football star, will be starter; Chas. H. Wilson of the A.A.U. will be timer; and Harry Gill of the University of Illinois will be a judge.

The booming city of Gary is enthused over the meet. Preparations are being made to entertain a huge crowd. Gary is now a city of 100,000 and only a few years old.

Some of the biggest men in industry are officers of the A.I.A.A. W. J. Cahill of Akron is president; G. W. Selbering of Akron, vice president; A. N. McArthur of Gary, vice president; C. W. Leffingwell, Akron, secretary.

The meet will take in the regular track and field events. Besides there will be wrestling, javelin throwing and horse shoe pitching—dubbed "barneyard golf." Hugh Palmer, Ohio state horse shoe pitching champ, is entered.

WILLARD-DEMPSEY BOUT

Rickard Orders Boxers to Eliminate Heavy Hitting to Save Hands

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 30.—For fear of an injury to his hands, Jack Dempsey today was instructed to eliminate all heavy hitting from his training bout. The instructions were issued at the request of Tex Rickard, who intends to make the same request of Willard.

Dempsey is so fine physically that there is more than remote danger of his going stale. Many observers lean to the opinion that he reached the peak of condition some days ago and only the most skillful handling will permit him to retain the form that has made him the marvel of all those who have had a chance to examine him.

This afternoon he planned to box four easy rounds. It is the idea of trainer Jimmy D. Forest to give him a charge just enough work to keep him supple and maintain his judgment of distance. Dempsey will change his morning road runs to a fast walk and by Wednesday will be through with training.

Willard plans to continue his recent burst of training speed for at least two days more, unless a spell of hot weather causes him to change his mind.

Willard Makes Statement

Discussing his failure to do road work Willard said today:

"I know that many close followers of boxing do not agree with me in this point, but I am convinced that in my case at least, I feel better without running on the road. You can run a small pony all day, but you will kill a big truck horse with the same trick. I feel sure that I can and have developed all the leg and wind endurance I need. I may be wrong, of course, and if I am I will have to pay the bill, but I am not worrying on that point."

Experts who think that Willard should have done more work admit that he is in better shape than when he met Frank Moran, but claim that he is woefully short of the condition reached when he defeated Jack Johnson in Havana. Willard tips the scales at 244 today, instead of the 259 when he defeated Moran. He expects to enter the ring on Friday at about 248. This will be about three pounds below his weight when he won the championship.

Willard claims that his dieting and not the work has reduced his weight and furthermore he does not need to be as fine to go even the full 12 rounds as he did when he had the possibility of a 45 round battle staring him in the face. Some of his more enthusiastic admirers claim that his condition clearly indicates that he has been doing secret training in addition to his public workouts, but Willard denies this old trick of pugilism. He is not using brine or any other preparation to toughen his skin, but Dempsey is following this old system and is "milkling" his face for the contenders in other days.

CONVINCING

To convince the public, and especially the motion picture public, is a tough job—there's so much wild-cat advertising, so many poor pictures foisted upon them by catch phrases, which are as empty as the Common People's pocketbook. Take our word when we say we believe we have an especially good show. We have one for

SKEELS MURDER TRIAL RESUMED TODAY

LAWRENCE, Mass., June 30.—Mrs. Skeels (Skeels) Lunden who is being tried for the murder of Miss Florine Gay of Andover appeared improved in health when she entered the courtroom today prepared to resume testimony in cross examination. She said that she had remained in through the week-end and felt refreshed.

At the close of the day's proceedings, at whose home Mrs. Skeels was living when "she" was killed, she was questioned by the prosecution which he had, regarding the Skeels' request from the Andover police that his "relation" be removed from the house. "He had no right to do one thing that there were no more Skeels in the house," she said, "I found a lot of papers scattered about the house that I saw no one else touch."

George A. Higgins, town clerk of Andover, had produced a copy of official certificate showing cerebral hemorrhage as the cause of Miss Gay's death. The defendant was called for continuance of her cross-examination. She was asked about some squirrels which she had taken to a store for repairs. She replied that she received the furs from her husband's check. She usually checked by check. She did not remember whether she paid any bills for her check but said that Miss Gay's check was for $100. At one time she asked for an increase in pay.

She was questioned at length regarding her life with her former husband, Frank M. Skeels. During the trial, Skeels' first wife, now Mrs. Wolf, appeared. She is lame and brought into the courtroom by a chair. Her appearance had no effect on the witness.

After questioning Mrs. Skeels that she had ever lived with her at Youngstown, Ohio, under the name of Mrs. W. F. Cody, she had ever used that name, she did not know that Skeels was not from his first wife until she was asked if she was quite sure she was married to Skeels. She replied with vigorous denial. She had never had any connection with the other Mrs. Skeels, the witness was not Skeels, she declared in answer to question.

She said that she had urged trial of the case and had felt that she would try and get out of the case. She would dance a jig in the street.

She admitted that she had married a man named Skeels. She was asked if she was quite sure she was married to Skeels. She replied with vigorous denial. She had never had any connection with the other Mrs. Skeels, the witness was not Skeels, she declared in answer to question.

U. S. AVIATOR KILLED

Was Distributing Papers Announcing Signing of Peace in Occupied Area

CORLENS, Sunday, June 29. (By the Associated Press.)—Captain Walter Schultz of Chicago, a member of the 13th Aero Squadron, was killed last evening when an airplane in which he was distributing editions of the signing of the treaty of peace fell near Montebaur, headquarters of the first division.

He volunteered to carry copies of the edition to soldiers who for more than a week had been concentrated at the edge of the bridgehead ready to advance in the event that the Germans refused to accept the allied terms. The accident is attributed to engine trouble. If there was any sadness among the Germans over the fact that actual peace had arrived at last, it was not apparent among the people about town. In fact the entire orchestra seemed to play more sprightly with renewed vigor and the Germans drank more beer than usual. All the while American soldiers in groups paraded the streets singing:

"Where do we go from here?"

The center and right cheered the premier, while the extreme socialist left remained silent.

DANIELS PAYS TRIBUTE

TO NC HEROES

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Secretary Daniels today welcomed home the commander officers and crew of the American Naval Trans-Atlantic flight squadron with the declaration that they had "made a new day and accomplished what not the wisest among us can do."

"We can cross the Atlantic, as you have demonstrated," said the secretary. "We can cross the Pacific. We can fly around the world."

"I congratulate all of you gentlemen upon the achievement which is epoch-making in the history of the world. I share with Commander Read his very splendid assurance that his only regret was that all of the ships did not get across; but due to a lack of judgment, courage and skill, but because of obstacles that could not be overcome. I congratulate you and all America is proud of you."

"I personally feel proud of being in the navy and living in close touch with such heroes as you have shown yourselves to be. I am glad to see you all home again. You have given a new glory to naval exploration."

Before Secretary Daniels, Commander John H. Towers, the squadron commander, and Lieutenant Commanders Albert C. Read and Patrick N. L. Bellinger, and their assistants, Secretary Daniels announced that he would recommend that Congress authorize a special medal for the crew of the ship.

He said he also would recommend that some special distinction be shown Commander Read and the crew of the NC-1 the only plane to complete the flight.

HAZZARD ARRESTED

Man Who Would Marry Miss Mabel E. Puffer Charged With Larceny of $6000

Arthur G. Hazzard, more familiarly known as "Honey" Hazzard was arrested Sunday morning in this city at the home of his brother, William Hazzard, in Chapel street, charged with the larceny of $6000 from Miss Mabel E. Puffer, recently from Ayer to Concord, N. H., where it is said, they intended to be married. The warrant, calling for Hazzard's arrest was issued in Ayer on the request of George L. Wilson, recently appointed temporary guardian of Miss Puffer's estate.

Hazzard was arraigned in the Ayer court today, and after pleading not guilty the case was continued to one week from next Saturday, July 12.

When it became known that Hazzard was in Lowell the warrant was turned over to the local police and, Sgt. McLaughlin and Patrolman Burke served it shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday forenoon. He was taken to police headquarters and was afterwards joined by his brother, William Hazzard and his attorney, Cornelius J. O'Neill. Clerk Trull of the police court fixed bail at $10,000 for Hazzard's appearance in the Ayer court this morning and later in the afternoon John H. Barrett of 55 Fifth street, provided the necessary security.

It is said that on receiving word of Hazzard's arrest yesterday, Chief Beatty of the Ayer police went to Hazzard's home in Ayer with a search warrant and there found scores of articles which Miss Puffer identified as her property and stated that they had passed from her hands to the Hazzard household. The property included trunks, a photograph, old and valuable furniture, a solid silver service set, other silverware, rugs and lace. It is said that the property was taken in the Ayer police station.

Montenegro Enters Protest

PARIS, June 30.—The Montenegrin government has sent a note in the allied powers protesting against the peace conference's refusal to allow Montenegrin representation in the peace negotiations with Germany. It makes the point that it was among the first to declare war on Germany.

The protest comes from the government of King Nicholas, the headquarters of which are in a suburb of Paris. Last December the national assembly of Montenegro voted to unite with the Serbo-Croat Slovene state and deposed King Nicholas.

SALE OF LIQUOR FOR ARBITRATE

MEDICINAL PURPOSES

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Stringent regulations governing the sale of alcohol for medicinal purposes were issued today by the bureau of internal revenue.

"Physicians may prescribe wines and liquors for internal uses, or alcohol for external uses," the regulations said "but in every such case each prescription shall be in duplicate and both copies be signed in the physician's handwriting."

The quantity prescribed for a single patient at a given time shall not exceed one quart. In no case shall a physician prescribe alcoholic liquors unless the patient is under his constant personal supervision.

All prescriptions shall indicate clearly the name and address of the patient, including street and apartment number if any, the date when written, the condition or illness for which prescribed, and the name of the pharmacist to whom the prescription is to be presented for filling.

Similar detailed restrictions on the sale of alcohol by drug stores were promulgated. All prescriptions must be preserved and once a month a list of physicians prescribing alcohol, the names of the patients and the total quantity dispensed to each patient during the month must be transmitted to the collector of internal revenue.

Pharmacists were advised to refuse to fill prescriptions if they had reason to believe that physicians were dispensing for other than strictly legitimate medicinal uses, or that a patient was obtaining through several physicians quantities in excess of the normal amount.

Liquor dealers, wholesale and retail, having stocks on hand, may sell to pharmacists holding permits until the present stocks are exhausted.

"Wine used for sacramental purposes may continue to be made in quantities not exceeding 100 gallons if production and distribution are entirely under clerical supervision. It must pay the usual tax."

BUILDING STEEL AND CONCRETE BRIDGE

Before the end of the summer a new steel and concrete bridge will span the canal in Fletcher street, replacing a series of wooden structures, the first of which was constructed in 1826. Work is going on at the present time, in fact the foundations are in and men of the locks and canals today are beginning to strip off the old timbers in preparation of laying the new beams.

In a great many respects the new bridge will be similar to the one recently thrown over the canal in Merrimack street. Ornamental railings will be poured and the entire structure will be substantial enough to last for generations. The bridge, which will be 92 feet long, will be shorter by 60 feet than the wooden one now in place, the shorter span being made possible by filling in on the east end of what is now waste land. Years ago the canal was wider at this point than at present, but the swampy condition has disappeared and a bridge as long as the present wooden one is not necessary today.

The construction of the new bridge will be of steel and concrete resting on concrete piers. Two such piers already are in place, thus making three spans of approximately 31 feet each in length. The bridge will have an overall width of about 50 feet with a roadway 32 feet wide, the present width. Locks and Canal officials do not anticipate any great inconvenience to traffic while the bridge is being built, for a half will be constructed at a time, keeping the other end open. The street car tracks will have to be pulled up and relaid temporarily, but as far as can be foreseen, traffic will not be disturbed to any appreciable extent.

The first work on the bridge was begun early this spring, in April, but was necessarily slow because it was under-water construction and the men could only work on Sundays when the water was drawn off. The foundation now is laid, however, and the remainder of work will proceed more rapidly.

HAVERHILL

CONTROVERSY

HAVERHILL, Mass., June 30.—The controversy between the Shoe Workers' Protective union and the Haverhill Shoe Manufacturers association in regard to the adoption of the 44 and 45 hour week will be settled by arbitration. This method has been mutually agreed upon by each faction and committees representing each will get together tonight. The proposition of the Manufacturers association for the 45 hour week during the summer months will not be considered.

Before the shoe cutters will return to work a mass meeting will be held to decide whether or not to respect the shoe council's orders. Joseph C. Goyette, general agent of the union, declares that the cutters will probably return during the day.

Although Station Agent W. A. Rayner has received no word from the railroad officially, railroad men say that when the company has been officially notified by the town of Acton that the above action was taken, formal notice will be sent to Rayner to remain on the job.

AS WE APPROACH THE "DRY" SEASON

"Whatya goin' to do after July 1?" queried the old toper in front of the bar.

"Whatya goin' to do yourself?" was the quick retort of the bartender. And so it goes. One didn't know what he would do to earn a living after July 1, and the other didn't know where he would get a drink after that date.

And while the bartender was a bit peeved because of the toper's question they were both of one mind to the extent that they hoped the president would lift the prohibition lid.

It seems to be the general impression that the lid will be lifted soon after the first of July, but just where one finds a foundation for that thought is another question. It seems to be a case of the wish leading the belief.

But there are some Lowellians who will not go dry even though the lid should go on good and tight and they don't belong to the so-called drinking set, either—not all of them at least. Some of them in fact are known to be temperance advocates. But that's the way of the world. The average wholesaler knows a whole lot of those fellows. And besides the home trade, the Lowell wholesalers have done a great out-of-town business. Three New Hampshire automobiles loaded up at one place Saturday with booze approximating, it was said, $700.

One Lowell club, it was stated today, has invited its members to forego their tonight to see to it that nothing in the line of liquid goes over to the dry season. But those who have the stuff to sell have not reduced the price. Just what they are going to do with it after July 1, is something that they are free to confess they do not know.

It was rumored today that some of the hotels would celebrate tonight, a case of bidding farewell to the wet and welcoming the dry season, but nothing official along that line was reported. It does not sound like a glorious celebration, anyway, for the hotel men.

New Drinkers on Deck

It was stated today by men who keep tabs on the drinkers and non-drinkers that men who never drank before are wearing out the bar rail and their wives' patience. Men who used to take a wee nip are coming home with sails full of sail. Men who always drank are getting on jags that threaten to lap far over into the drought era and, they do tell, that women who used never to walk under a beer sign are now making the experiment.

Appropos of the dry season are the following verses by John Russell of 38 Rock street:

HANNIGIN—FLANNAGIN
See Hannigin to Flannagin,
"I see you have began again."
"I see you have began again."
"A thing ye shudn't do."

See Flannagin to Hannigin,
"Now none av yer shenanigans,
"And if I have began again,
Well, what is that to you?"

"Well Flannagin," sez Hannigin,
"I thot ye wuz a man again,
But yer just an also ran again!
Amongst a crowd of buns."

"But Hannigin," sez Flannagin,
"You like it too man, now and then,
And what will you be doin' whin

So Hannigin and Flannagin,
Both go and get a brannagin.
For they can't rush the can again.

ACTION HANGS ON

TO HER STATION

ACTON, June 30.—The old Acton railroad station, which was ordered closed by the federal railroad administration after continuous public service since the year 1871, is to remain open for passenger and freight service. By unanimous vote, the citizens of the town in special town meeting assembled decided to close an old unused highway in North Acton, thereby discontinuing the services of a railroad crossing tender.

The money saved by the railroad will offset the sum expended weekly to maintain the Acton station service, and everybody is happy except the crossing tender, W. H. Morrison, who loses a weekly salary of more than $20.

CHINESE DELEGATES STILL AT PARIS

PARIS, June 30.—Secretary Lansing today conferred with the American officials who remained here after the departure of President Wilson. Later in the day he planned to meet Arthur J. Balfour, the British foreign secretary, and representatives of the other powers to formulate plans for carrying on the work remaining to be accomplished by the conference.

The calling of a meeting of the Council of Ten, which is now the supreme body of the conference, will depend upon the completion of the program for the future proceedings, now being framed by the principal powers. In spite of their refusal to sign the peace treaty Saturday, the Chinese delegates are not regarded as having withdrawn from the peace conference, and will continue to take part in the proceedings. The delegation at present is awaiting instructions from Peking.

If the Chinese government is disposed to sign, it is said in conference circles, it is still possible for its delegates to do so.
